AGAINST THE MORMON.

Movement to Keep Roberts Out of Congress.

WOMEN ARE TO TAKE A HAND.

Meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Board of Missions to Be Held Dec. 20 In New York—Congregationalists and Baptists Also to Act.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Efforts to prevent Brigham H. Roberts, representative-elect from Utah, from taking his seat in the Fifty-sixth congress, because he is a polygamist and advocates that doctrine of the Mormon church, is to have the organized support of hundreds of thousands of women in the United States.

The initial women's movement is to take organized form in this city at a meeting of the Presbyterian women's board of home missions, on Dec. 20.

There are 100,000 members of the Presbyterian Home Missions society in the United States.

The Home Missions societies of the Congregational and Baptist churches are preparing to make a similar campaign against Roberts and the women's societies of other denominations are becoming interested in the fight. It is intended that all shall co-operate.

TWENTY-FIVE PERISHED.

Brave Rescue of the Rest on Board the Londonian, Which Went Down at Sea.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9.—The Johnston line steamer Vedamore of Liverpool, with 45 shipwrecked mariners and cattlemen, which she picked up at sea, arrived here. Twenty-five other mariners and cattlemen went down with their ship.

The men landed are the survivors of the British steamship Londonian of London, bound from Boston for London. Nov. 23, in a violent gale her cargo shifted and she almost capsized, she finally resting on her beam ends, with big seas breaking over her. For two days she drifted about at the mercy of the winds and waves. Assistance came at about 5 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 25. The Vedamore hove in sight and was signalled.

About noon, in the teeth of a stiff gale, Second Officer Hobbs and a volunteer crew gallantly launched one of the Vedamore's boats and attempted to reach the sinking Londonian for about three hours, but failed. Captain Bartlett then steamed to the windward of the doomed steamer, and several other attempts to rescue the Londonian's crew were made fruitlessly.

As it grew too dark to do anything more the Vedamore stood by. During the night the wind increased and by morning it was blowing very hard.

For hours life buoys, with lines attached, were floated toward the Londonian and at last her crew succeeded in getting one aboard. One of the Vedamore's lifeboats, improvised as a life-car, made a trip successfully and 22 half-frozen, exhausted men were hauled up over the side of the Vedamore. As the boat was going back to the Londonian wreck a big sea demolished it. The lines were carried away and the communication broken.

Chief Officer Doran of the Vedamore volunteered to launch another lifeboat to attempt the rescue. The seas were by this time terrific. For about two hours the boat's crew struggled at the oars but failed. When they returned the boat was smashed against the ship's side and lost. They all came near drowning. Another fearful night of peril and fear passed. The next morning 23 of the men of the Londonian succeeded in launching one of their own boats and reached the Vedamore. Their boat was also lost and all that day was spent in trying to again establish communication. The gale was constantly increasing and all efforts to save the others were in vain.

Even after night had fallen the Vedamore was kept cruising about in the vicinity, but when day broke next morning the Londonian had vanished.

Steamer Pentagoet Still Missing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—N. L. Newcomb, the general agent of the Manhattan Steamship company, said that it was a most perplexing mystery to him that no information could be gotten about the missing steamer Pentagoet. He feels compelled to conclude that she is lost, and the only hope is that the crew, composed of Captain O. R. Ingraham and 18 men, have been picked up by some vessel bound for a foreign port.

PRIEST PRAISED GENERAL WOOD.

Said He Hoped He Would Be Made Governor General of Cuba.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 9.—There has been great rejoicing in connection withe fete of Purisima Concepcion.

Abbe Bernardo preached an eloquent sermon at the cathedral. He called upon all Cubans to rejoice at the termination of 400 years of cruelty, extortion and misery and to show their gratitude to the United States. He eulogized General Wood, saying that he rejoiced to hear that General Wood's name had been sent to the United States senate with a recommendation that he be raised to the rank of major general. "And I can only hope," said the preacher, "that General Wood's name will be sent a week later with a recommendation that he be appointed a lieutenant general and made governor general of the island of Cuba during the American military occupation."

STERNBERG A WITNESS.

He Defended the Conduct of the Medical Department During the War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The conduct of the medical service of the army was taken up by the war investigating commission and Surgeon General Sternberg was rigidly questioned about his administration. The medical department, he said, was equipped only for an army of 25,000 men when the war broke out and from year to year the estimates he had submitted had been materially reduced by congress in a policy of economy of appropriations. As soon as there was a prospect of war he had begun preparations, though not making any expense. He had models of chests made, he said, and equipment developed, but when he suggested to Secretary Alger the propriety of making purchases for his service, "the policy was to wait." He said at one time there were as many as 650 contract surgeons employed.

He conceded it was a mistake not to have appointed more contract surgeons from those who had experience in the Civil war, for their experience would have been invaluable, but he was ignorant at the outset of the permanency of the camps. It had been impossible for him even to read the great volume of reports submitted, owing to being overwhelmed with matters requiring personal attention.

He could not recollect whether the chief surgeon at Camp Thomas had reported that the sanitation there was bad. The department now, he said, has ample evidence that typhoid cases during the war were largely mistaken for malarial fever until the cases reached the divis on hospitals, and that malaria also had been diagnosed as typhoid.

He said that, with time, it was practicable to secure a fairly large number of nurses, but their training took time, and he admitted in war time might be at the expense of the patients. He acknowledged the services of volunteer aid associations and said the trained female nurses were satisfactory. Witness admitted a real deficiency in medical supplies at times.

At Santiago their landing was delayed owing to exigency of the times; and railroads failed to get them through in time at other points. He contended, however, that there had been very little lack of medical supplies during the war, the great difficulty being that surgeons frequently preferred other than the "field supply" and an unticipated typhoid fever outbreak had also considerably taxed the field surgeons.

General Sternberg said after the purchase of the John English, as a hospital ship, there was a lapse of three weeks during which no work had been done. She sailed on the date of the battle of Santiago and had she sailed five days sooner the medical supplies at the battleground would have been ample. The witness refused to say the delay was unnecessary or on whom the responsibility should rest.

He said emphatically that he could do no more in his office than send supplies where he thought they were needed and respond promptly to requisitions.

After some questioning, General Beaver said: "Then we are to understand you had at all times the hearty support and good will of those over you in forwarding the work of your department?"

"Yes," was the reply, "most undoubtedly."

As to the general condition of troops in mobilization camps, he said the trouble could nearly all be summed up in the two phrases, "neglect of sanitary measures" and "letting the troops remain too long in one camp."

"You have to do one of two things," said he. "You must maintain your permanent camp under the sanitary conditions of civilized life, or you must follow the Indian method and shift your camp when you foul your ground. I can make rules which, if followed, will insure reasonable immunity from typhoid, but I cannot insure their being followed by the men in the field."

PRAISED AMERICAN REGULARS.

A German Attache Told of What He Saw In Cuba.

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—Count A. von Goetzen, who was commissioned by Emperor William to accompany the United States army during the Spanish-American war, addressed a large and distinguished audience at the Kaiserhof on "The Newest Colonial Power."

He said the only good volunteers were the rough riders. He severely condemned the insurgents who, he said, rendered little assistance to the Americans.

He praised General Shafter's treatment of the foreign officers who accompanied his staff. The United States regulars were characterized by the lecturer as "a most excellent body, though small."

Count Von Goetzen prophesied a great future for the new American colonies, because, he said, "the Americans are prime colonists."

ALL BUT THE SIGNING.

Peace Commissioners Through Negotiating In Paris.

TOMORROW OR MONDAY THE DAY.

The Representatives of the Two Governments Will Likely Attach Their Names Then—Articles Almost Confined to the Peace Protocol.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The United States and the Spanish peace commissioners concluded their work and finally settled the terms of the treaty of peace, and they will meet once more in formal session tomorrow or Monday next, when the Spanish commissioners sorrowfully and the Americans with feelings of relief will write their signatures upon the document which embodies the results of the war and the preparation of which has consumed 11 weeks, a longer time than the war itself. In the meantime the treaty will be engrossed under the supervision of Mr. Moore and Senor Ojeda, the secretaries of the respective commissions.

The Spaniards are exceedingly bitter over the result, though observing the forms of friendliness and courtesy to the end. Senor Montero Rios, whose strong and persistent struggle to save for his country every possible asset from the wreck of her colonial empire has commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents, went from the council chamber to his bed, in a state of complete collapse as the result of the long strain and his chagrin over the small fruits of his efforts. Senor Ojeda has been prostrated since Wednesday, and was unable to attend the joint session Thursday.

The Spaniards charge equal blame upon the European powers and the United States for their downfall. One of the Spanish commissioners said:

"The European nations have made a great mistake in deserting Spain and leaving her to spoliation by the brute force of a conscienceless giant. They all know that in the Philippines America has taken more than she can digest. She will ultimately sell the islands to England or Germany, and when the transfer is attempted it will precipitate general European strife.

"We have refused to sell any island in the Carolines. We never thought of considering an offer. Nor have we consented to negotiate upon any questions except those directly involved in the protocol signed at Washington."

At a recent session Senor Rios referred to the Maine, but in only one calmly worded sentence, expressing regret that the president had spoken, as Spaniards thought, unjustly of them. The Spaniards had already proposed, at this conference, to have the responsibility of the Maine reported upon by a joint commission of the European powers. The American commissioners refused to listen to this, and permitted Senor Rios' reference to the president's message to pass unchallenged, as a discussion would have provoked debate and bad blood.

Some of the members of the commissions said the treaty will contain little outside the scope of the Washington protocol and the matters directly based thereon, like the provisions for the evacuation of the ceded territories, the transfer of public property therein and guarantees of the safety of the property and rights of the Spanish citizens remaining there.

The details of the last class of questions covered by the statement which the Americans handed to Senor Montero Rios at the last meeting were considered, but the commissioners refused to divulge the details of the conference.

The Spaniards refuse to admit that they had failed to respect former treaties guaranteeing religious freedom in the Caroline islands, or that there was a necessity for new guarantees.

The French government is reported to have resolved to take up the case of the French holders of Cuban bonds, and it is believed France will declare that the repudiation of the bonds is the result of the treaty which the victorious nation imposed upon Spain. They argue that through the treaty responsibility has been shifted upon America, and therefore, the French government will endeavor to exact some pledge for the payment or guarantee of the bonds.

Sailed With Troops For Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The steamer Roumania sailed from Savannah, carrying the entire First regiment of North Carolina, with their transportation, to serve as part of the garrison of Havana. The Second Illinois regiment was loading at Savannah for the same destination.

Prominent Nominees Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate confirmed these nominations: Powell Clayton of Arkansas, to be ambassador to Mexico. Brigadier generals to be major generals, Guy V. Henry, U. S. A., and Leonard Wood, U. S. V.

Garcia Has Pneumonia.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—General Garcia's illness has developed into pneumonia and two physicians are in attendance. Because of his advanced age, 62 years, the outcome in viewed with some apprehension.

TWO WANDERERS

Told a Pitiful Tale at City Hall Last Night.

There were no arrests made during last night or this morning, and as a result the jail is empty.

Several persons were given lodging and this morning were turned out.

There were three of these tourists of which one couple claimed to be man and wife. They went in city hall about 8 o'clock and their condition was most pitiable. They had a bundle of clothing in their possession, and a small dog. While they were eating a lunch they told a tale and a wild one it was. They said they were on their way to Cincinnati and took the river route because it was the shortest. They started from a Pennsylvania town and expected to reach their destination by Christmas.

No complaints were made during the morning, and had it not been for the selling to minor cases not an arrest would have been made this week.

So far the police have not been able to locate Thomas Garen, who is wanted on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the Bagley company. A member of the firm stated this morning that so far the shortage amounts to about $500. Not all the trade has been seen yet and it is thought when this is done the amount will be increased.

THIEVES.

They Are Unusually Active In the Upper Part of Town.

Last midnight someone was heard at a side window of a house in Avondale street, occupied by a family named Beck. Several male members were up at the time, and one of them hearing the sound procured his revolver and went after the individual by the way of a back door. The would-be robber heard the man and ran away, and has not as yet been heard of. A description of the man was obtained, and a search is now being made for him.

Henry Bullock while going to his home in College street last night, was asked by a strange looking character for his money as he was passing the corner of College and Kossuth streets. The man had his hat down over his eyes and when he was told by Bullock that he had made a mistake in the party, he became very gruff, and said many things he should not have said. Bullock made an attempt to get his revolver, and when the man saw this he made his escape.

The cases have been reported to the police.

DIRECTOR M'BRIDE

Will Likely Be Appointed to Fill the Vacant Months.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The witnesses before the grand jury today are from Lisbon and Palestine.

No appointment has been made to fill the vacancy in the board of infirmary directors. Another matter not generally known is the fact that Director McBride's first term of office expires January 2, while his second term does not commence until the first Monday in September. The commissioners will appoint some one for the interim. McBride will probably receive the appointment.

On the River.

A slight fall in the river yesterday and last night brought the marks at the wharf to the 7 foot stage. The river is in bad condition at present owing to floating ice, and colder weather is expected by rivermen. This will cause a big flow of ice out of the Allegheny.

The Virginia was up on time today, arriving at 8 o'clock this morning, and after staying a short time at the wharf left for Pittsburg.

The Cummins and Bedford are down tonight, and the Ben Hur and Greenwood were down last night.

Business at the wharf is fair.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John Peake, of West End, was in Pittsburg today on business.

—D. H. Alexandee, of Washington, D. C., is spending several days in the city on business.

—Harry Wylie, of Toronto, was in the city last evening, attending the Columbian club party.

—Miss Katherine Craft, of Bethany, W. Va., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craft, Fourth street.

—Mrs. Charles Berg and Mrs. John Rigot, who have been spending several days in Pittsburg, visiting friends, have returned to the city.

MAY EXTEND THE ROAD

W. & L. E. to Be Built to Coke Fields, if Sold.

FEDERAL STEEL COMPANY AFTER IT

Reported That the Same Company Also Is Trying to Buy the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling—Also Talk of a New Branch Line.

CANAL DOVER, Dec. 9.—In connection with the reported purchase of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad by the Federal Steel company it is asserted by an official of the railroad that negotiations are also pending for the acquisition of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road by the iron company. It is stated that in case the deal goes through the road will be extended from the Ohio river to the Pennsylvania coke fields.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—It is the report among iron men here that the Federal Steel company is considering the advisability of building a railroad from its Lorain plant to Cleveland, a distance of about 25 miles. Surveys are known to have been under way recently.

Such a connection would give an outlet over all the lines running into Cleveland, and provide the steel company with terminals which would entitle it to its percentage on all outgoing and incoming traffic. The report has not been confirmed. It is the opinion, if the plan is carried out, the steel company will purchase the Cleveland Belt Line railway.

Should the steel company purchase the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad, for which it is said to be negotiating, it would not be necessary for them to construct the Cleveland and Lorain line, as the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling has extended its line between the two points named.

Lewis and Supporters Withdrew.

ZANESVILLE, Dec. 9.—August Smith of Toledo was elected president of the Ohio Federation of Labor here after L. T. Lewis of Bridgeport, the former president, and a company of supporters had withdrawn from the convention. Lewis undertook to control the convention in the interest of his own re-election, but the convention refused to adopt a credential report seating six delegates on whom Lewis' success depended. A great confusion resulted and the Lewis party walked out.

State Grangers Adjourned.

WOOSTER, Dec. 9.—The Grand Association of Ohio Patrons of Industry, with over 150 delegates from 27 counties of the state, closed a two days' session here. Officers elected were: Grand president, D. W. Williams of Fulton county; vice president, W. M. Carlisle of Knox county; treasurer, Frank Weirke of Henry county; trustees, W. D. Ditmais of Holmes county, H. H. Overman of Sandusky county and D. Laughlin of Coshocton county.

Said He Killed Accidentally.

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—Solomon Wise, a prominent merchant here, was found dead in his clothing store with a bullet hole in his breast. A. W. Weller, cashier of the A. Ruan & Co. bank, was arrested on suspicion and made a confession, saying that he had shot Wise accidentally.

To Get Gillett Back.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Dec. 9.—D. H. Howard, a cattle dealer of Abilene, Kan., who is $40,000 short on Gillett, the Kansas plunger, passed through Las Vegas, enroute from Mexico to Topeka, where he will ask the governor to issue requisition papers for the transfer of Gillett into the custody of the Kansas state authorities. Gillett would have been promptly arrested, but for the defective extradition laws. Two detectives were left to shadow him and his attorney.

Wade Likely to Be Governor.

HAVANA, Dec. 9.—Major General James F. Wade, president of the United States evacuation commission, has received instructions from President McKinley which seem to indicate that he will be appointed military governor of Western Cuba. General Greene will be governor of Havana.

Mataafa's Election Didn't Go.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Dec. 9.—The following advices were received here from Samoa: "The supporters of Mataafa having elected him king, certain chiefs lodged a caveat, which the chief justice has decided in their favor. It is now understood that Tamasese will be nominated."

Aged Woman Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The president has pardoned Amanda V. Grierson, now McCarty, convicted in the southern district of Ohio and sentenced to one year in jail at Lebanon for violation of the pension laws. She is said to be about 70 years of age and in feeble health.

Sailed With Crew In Irons.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—With a majority of his crew in irons, having mutinied, the British ship Jack Burrill, Captain Robertson, hence from Santos with 3,000 tons of coal, passed seaward. Those who know Captain Robertson have no fears but that he will conquer the mutineers.

ALL BUT THE SIGNING.

Peace Commissioners Through Negotiating In Paris.

TOMORROW OR MONDAY THE DAY.

The Representatives of the Two Governments Will Likely Attach Their Names Then—Articles Almost Confined to the Peace Protocol.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The United States and the Spanish peace commissioners concluded their work and finally settled the terms of the treaty of peace, and they will meet once more in formal session tomorrow or Monday next, when the Spanish commissioners sorrowfully and the Americans with feelings of relief will write their signatures upon the document which embodies the results of the war and the preparation of which has consumed 11 weeks, a longer time than the war itself. In the meantime the treaty will be engrossed under the supervision of Mr. Moore and Senor Ojeda, the secretaries of the respective commissions.

The Spaniards are exceedingly bitter over the result, though observing the forms of friendliness and courtesy to the end. Senor Montero Rios, whose strong and persistent struggle to save for his country every possible asset from the wreck of her colonial empire has commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents, went from the council chamber to his bed, in a state of complete collapse as the result of the long strain and his chagrin over the small fruits of his efforts. Senor Ojeda has been prostrated since Wednesday, and was unable to attend the joint session Thursday.

The Spaniards charge equal blame upon the European powers and the United States for their downfall. One of the Spanish commissioners said:

"The European nations have made a great mistake in deserting Spain and leaving her to spoliation by the brute force of a conscienceless giant. They all know that in the Philippines America has taken more than she can digest. "We have refused to sell any island in the Carolines. We never thought of considering an offer. Nor have we consented to negotiate upon any questions except those directly involved in the protocol signed at Washington."

At a recent session Senor Rios referred to the Maine, but in only one calmly worded sentence, expressing regret that the president had spoken, as Spaniards thought, unjustly of them. The Spaniards had already proposed, at this conference, to have the responsibility of the Maine reported upon by a joint commission of the European powers. The American commissioners refused to listen to this, and permitted Senor Rios' reference to the president's message to pass unchallenged, as a discussion would have provoked debate and bad blood.

Some of the members of the commissions said the treaty will contain little outside the scope of the Washington protocol and the matters directly based thereon, like the provisions for the evacuation of the ceded territories, the transfer of public property therein and guarantees of the safety of the property and rights of the Spanish citizens remaining there.

The details of the last class of questions covered by the statement which the Americans handed to Senor Montero Rios at the last meeting were considered, but the commissioners refused to divulge the details of the conference.

The Spaniards refuse to admit that they had failed to respect former treaties guaranteeing religious freedom in the Caroline islands, or that there was a necessity for new guarantees.

The French government is reported to have resolved to take up the case of the French holders of Cuban bonds, and it is believed France will declare that the repudiation of the bonds is the result of the treaty which the victorious nation imposed upon Spain. They argue that through the treaty responsibility has been shifted upon America, and therefore, the French government will endeavor to exact some pledge for the payment or guarantee of the bonds.

Several persons were given lodging and this morning were turned out.

There were three of these tourists of which one couple claimed to be man and wife. They went in city hall about 8 o'clock and their condition was most pitiable. They had a bundle of clothing in their possession, and a small dog. While they were eating a lunch they told a tale and a wild one it was. They said they were on their way to Cincinnati and took the river route because it was the shortest. They started from a Pennsylvania town and expected to reach their destination by Christmas.

No complaints were made during the morning, and had it not been for the selling to minor cases not an arrest would have been made this week.

So far the police have not been able to locate Thomas Garen, who is wanted on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the Bagley company. A member of the firm stated this morning that so far the shortage amounts to about $500. Not all the trade has been seen yet and it is thought when this is done the amount will be increased.

THIEVES.

They Are Unusually Active In the Upper Part of Town.

Last midnight someone was heard at a side window of a house in Avondale street, occupied by a family named Beck. Several male members were up at the time, and one of them hearing the sound procured his revolver and went after the individual by the way of a back door. The would-be robber heard the man and ran away, and has not as yet been heard of. A description of the man was obtained, and a search is now being made for him.

Henry Bullock while going to his home in College street last night, was asked by a strange looking character for his money as he was passing the corner of College and Kossuth streets. The man had his hat down over his eyes and when he was told by Bullock that he had made a mistake in the party, he became very gruff, and said many things he should not have said. Bullock made an attempt to get his revolver, and when the man saw this he made his escape.

The cases have been reported to the police.

DIRECTOR M'BRIDE

Will Likely Be Appointed to Fill the Vacant Months.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The witnesses before the grand jury today are from Lisbon and Palestine.

No appointment has been made to fill the vacancy in the board of infirmary directors. Another matter not generally known is the fact that Director McBride's first term of office expires January 2, while his second term does not commence until the first Monday in September. The commissioners will appoint some one for the interim. McBride will probably receive the appointment.

On the River.

A slight fall in the river yesterday and last night brought the marks at the wharf to the 7 foot stage. The river is in bad condition at present owing to floating ice, and colder weather is expected by rivermen. This will cause a big flow of ice out of the Allegheny.

The Virginia was up on time today, arriving at 8 o'clock this morning, and after staying a short time at the wharf left for Pittsburg.

The Cummins and Bedford are down tonight, and the Ben Hur and Greenwood were down last night.

Business at the wharf is fair.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John Peake, of West End, was in Pittsburg today on business.

—D. H. Alexandee, of Washington, D. C., is spending several days in the city on business.

—Harry Wylie, of Toronto, was in the city last evening, attending the Columbian club party.

—Miss Katherine Craft, of Bethany, W. Va., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craft, Fourth street.

—Mrs. Charles Berg and Mrs. John Rigot, who have been spending several days in Pittsburg, visiting friends, have returned to the city.

MAY EXTEND THE ROAD

W. & L. E. to Be Built to Coke Fields, if Sold.

FEDERAL STEEL COMPANY AFTER IT

Reported That the Same Company Also Is Trying to Buy the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling—Also Talk of a New Branch Line.

CANAL DOVER, Dec. 9.—In connection with the reported purchase of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad by the Federal Steel company it is asserted by an official of the railroad that negotiations are also pending for the acquisition of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road by the iron company. It is stated that in case the deal goes through the road will be extended from the Ohio river to the Pennsylvania coke fields.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—It is the report among iron men here that the Federal Steel company is considering the advisability of building a railroad from its Lorain plant to Cleveland, a distance of about 25 miles. Surveys are known to have been under way recently.

Such a connection would give an outlet over all the lines running into Cleveland, and provide the steel company with terminals which would entitle it to its percentage on all outgoing and incoming traffic. The report has not been confirmed. It is the opinion, if the plan is carried out, the steel company will purchase the Cleveland Belt Line railway.

Should the steel company purchase the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad, for which it is said to be negotiating, it would not be necessary for them to construct the Cleveland and Lorain line, as the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling has extended its line between the two points named.

Lewis and Supporters Withdrew.

ZANESVILLE, Dec. 9.—August Smith of Toledo was elected president of the Ohio Federation of Labor here after L. T. Lewis of Bridgeport, the former president, and a company of supporters had withdrawn from the convention. Lewis undertook to control the convention in the interest of his own re-election, but the convention refused to adopt a credential report seating six delegates on whom Lewis' success depended. A great confusion resulted and the Lewis party walked out.

State Grangers Adjourned.

WOOSTER, Dec. 9.—The Grand Association of Ohio Patrons of Industry, with over 150 delegates from 27 counties of the state, closed a two-days' session here. Officers elected were: Grand president, D. W. Williams of Fulton county; vice president, W. M. Carlisle of Knox county; treasurer, Frank Weirke of Henry county; trustees, W. D. Ditmais of Holmes county, H. H. Overman of Sandusky county and D. Laughlin of Coshocton county.

Said He Killed Accidentally.

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—Solomon Wise, a prominent merchant here, was found dead in his clothing store with a bullet hole in his breast. A. W. Weiler, cashier of the A. Bruan & Co. bank, was arrested on suspicion and made a confession, saying that he had shot Wise accidentally.

To Get Gillett Back.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Dec. 9.—D. H. Howard, a cattle dealer of Abilene, Kan., who is $40,000 short on Gillett, the Kansas plunger, passed through Las Vegas, enroute from Mexico to Topeka, where he will ask the governor to issue requisition papers for the transfer of Gillett into the custody of the Kansas state authorities. Gillett would have been promptly arrested, but for the defective extradition laws. Two detectives were left to shadow him and his attorney.

Wade Likely to Be Governor.

HAVANA, Dec. 9.—Major General James F. Wade, president of the United States evacuation commission, has received instructions from President McKinley which seem to indicate that he will be appointed military governor of Western Cuba. General Greene will be governor of Havana.

Mataafa's Election Didn't Go.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Dec. 9.—The following advices were received here from Samoa: "The supporters of Mataafa having elected him king, certain chiefs lodged a caveat, which the chief justice has decided in their favor. It is now understood that Tamasese will be nominated."

Aged Woman Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The president has pardoned Amanda V. Grierson, now McCarty, convicted in the southern district of Ohio and sentenced to one year in jail at Lebanon for violation of the pension laws. She is said to be about 70 years of age and in feeble health.

Sailed With Crew In Irons.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—With a majority of his crew in irons, having mutinied, the British ship Jack Burrill, Captain Robertson, hence from Santos with 3,000 tons of coal, passed seaward. Those who know Captain Robertson have no fears but that he will conquer the mutineers.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 155. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, DEC. 9, 1898. TWO CENTS

AGAINST THE MORMON.

Movement to Keep Roberts Out of Congress.

WOMEN ARE TO TAKE A HAND.

Meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Board of Missions to Be Held Dec. 20 in New York—Congregationalists and Baptists Also to Act.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Efforts to prevent Brigham H. Roberts, representative-elect from Utah, from taking his seat in the Fifty-sixth congress, because he is a polygamist and advocates that doctrine of the Mormon church, is to have the organized support of hundreds of thousands of women in the United States.

The initial women's movement is to take organized form in this city at a meeting of the Presbyterian women's board of home missions, on Dec. 20.

There are 100,000 members of the Presbyterian Home Missions society in the United States.

The Home Missions societies of the Congregational and Baptist churches are preparing to make a similar campaign against Roberts and the women's societies of other denominations are becoming interested in the fight. It is intended that all shall co-operate.

TWENTY-FIVE PERISHED.

Brave Rescue of the Rest on Board the Londonian, Which Went Down at Sea.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9.—The Johnston line steamer Vedamore of Liverpool, with 45 shipwrecked mariners and cattlemen, which she picked up at sea, arrived here. Twenty-five other mariners and cattlemen went down with their ship.

The men landed are the survivors of the British steamship Londonian of London, bound from Boston for London. Nov. 23, in a violent gale her cargo shifted and she almost capsized, she finally resting on her beam ends, with big seas breaking over her. For two days she drifted about at the mercy of the winds and waves. Assistance came at about 5 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 25. The Vedamore hove in sight and was signalled.

About noon, in the teeth of a stiff gale, Second Officer Hobbs and a volunteer crew gallantly launched one of the Vedamore's boats and attempted to reach the sinking Londonian for about three hours, but failed. Captain Bartlett then steamed to the windward of the doomed steamer, and several other attempts to rescue the Londonian's crew were made fruitlessly.

As it grew too dark to do anything more the Vedamore stood by. During the night the wind increased and by morning it was blowing very hard.

For hours life buoys, with lines attached, were floated toward the Londonian and at last her crew succeeded in getting one aboard. One of the Vedamore's lifeboats, improvised as a life-car, made a trip successfully and 22 half-frozen, exhausted men were hauled up over the side of the Vedamore. As the boat was going back to the Londonian wreck a big sea demolished it. The lines were carried away and the communication broken.

Chief Officer Doran of the Vedamore volunteered to launch another lifeboat to attempt the rescue. The seas were by this time terrific. For about two hours the boat's crew struggled at the oars but failed. When they returned the boat was smashed against the ship's side and lost. They all came near drowning. Another fearful night of peril and fear passed. The next morning 23 of the men of the Londonian succeeded in launching one of their own boats and reached the Vedamore. Their boat was also lost and all that day was spent in trying to again establish communication. The gale was constantly increasing and all efforts to save the others were in vain.

Even after night had fallen the Vedamore was kept cruising about in the vicinity, but when day broke next morning the Londonian had vanished.

Steamer Pentagoet Still Missing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—N. L. Newcomb, the general agent of the Manhattan Steamship company, said that it was a most perplexing mystery to him that no information could be gotten about the missing steamer Pentagoet. He feels compelled to conclude that she is lost, and the only hope is that the crew, composed of Captain O. R. Ingraham and 18 men, have been picked up by some vessel bound for a foreign port.

PRIEST PRAISED GENERAL WOOD.

Said He Hoped He Would Be Made Governor General of Cuba.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 9.—There has been great rejoicing in connection with the fete of Purisima Concepcion.

Abbe Bernardo preached an eloquent sermon at the cathedral. He called upon all Cubans to rejoice at the termination of 400 years of cruelty, extortion and misery and to show their gratitude to the United States. He eulogized General Wood, saying that he rejoiced to hear that General Wood's name had been sent to the United States senate with a recommendation that he be raised to the rank of major general. "And I can only hope," said the preacher, "that General Wood's name will be sent a week later with a recommendation that he be appointed a lieutenant general and made governor general of the island of Cuba during the American military occupation."

STERNBERG A WITNESS.

He Defended the Conduct of the Medical Department During the War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The conduct of the medical service of the army was taken up by the war investigating commission and Surgeon General Sternberg was rigidly questioned about his administration. The medical department, he said, was equipped only for an army of 25,000 men when the war broke out and from year to year the estimates he had submitted had been materially reduced by congress in a policy of economy of appropriations. As soon as there was a prospect of war he had begun preparations, though not making any expense. He had models of chests made, he said, and equipment developed, but when he suggested to Secretary Alger the propriety of making purchases for his service, "the policy was to wait." He said at one time there were as many as 650 contract surgeons employed.

He conceded it was a mistake not to have appointed more contract surgeons from those who had experience in the Civil war, for their experience would have been invaluable, but he was ignorant at the outset of the permanency of the camps. It had been impossible for him even to read the great volume of reports submitted, owing to being overwhelmed with matters requiring personal attention.

He could not recollect whether the chief surgeon at Camp Thomas had reported that the sanitation there was bad. The department now, he said, has ample evidence that typhoid cases during the war were largely mistaken for malarial fever until the cases reached the divis on hospitals, and that malaria also had been diagnosed as typhoid.

He said that, with time, it was practicable to secure a fairly large number of nurses, but their training took time, and he admitted in war time might be at the expense of the patients. He acknowledged the services of volunteer aid associations and said the trained female nurses were satisfactory. Witness admitted a real deficiency in medical supplies at times.

At Santiago their landing was delayed owing to exigency of the times; and railroads failed to get them through in time at other points. He contended, however, that there had been very little lack of medical supplies during the war, the great difficulty being that surgeons frequently preferred other than the "field supply" and an unticipated typhoid fever outbreak had also considerably taxed the field surgeons.

General Sternberg said after the purchase of the John English, as a hospital ship, there was a lapse of three weeks during which no work had been done. She sailed on the date of the battle of Santiago and had she sailed five days sooner the medical supplies at the battleground would have been ample. The witness refused to say the delay was unnecessary or on whom the responsibility should rest.

He said emphatically that he could do no more in his office than send supplies where he thought they were needed and respond promptly to requisitions.

After some questioning, General Beaver said: "Then we are to understand you had at all times the hearty support and good will of those over you in forwarding the work of your department?"

"Yes," was the reply, "most undoubtedly."

As to the general condition of troops in mobilization camps, he said the trouble could nearly all be summed up in the two phrases, "neglect of sanitary measures" and "letting the troops remain too long in one camp."

"You have to do one of two things," said he. "You must maintain your permanent camp under the sanitary conditions of civilized life, or you must follow the Indian method and shift your camp when you foul your ground. I can make rules which, if followed, will insure reasonable immunity from typhoid, but I cannot insure their being followed by the men in the field."

PRAISED AMERICAN REGULARS.

A German Attache Told of What He Saw In Cuba.

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—Count A. von Goetzen, who was commissioned by Emperor William to accompany the United States army during the Spanish-American war, addressed a large and distinguished audience at the Kaiserhof on "The Newest Colonial Power."

He said the only good volunteers were the rough riders. He severely condemned the insurgents who, he said, rendered little assistance to the Americans.

He praised General Shafter's treatment of the foreign officers who accompanied his staff. The United States regulars were characterized by the lecturer as "a most excellent body, though small."

Count Von Goetzen prophesied a great future for the new American colonies, because, he said, "the Americans are prime colonists."

ALL BUT THE SIGNING.

Peace Commissioners Through Negotiating In Paris.

TOMORROW OR MONDAY THE DAY.

The Representatives of the Two Governments Will Likely Attach Their Names Then—Articles Almost Confined to the Peace Protocol.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The United States and the Spanish peace commissioners concluded their work and finally settled the terms of the treaty of peace, and they will meet once more in formal session tomorrow or Monday next, when the Spanish commissioners sorrowfully and the Americans with feelings of relief will write their signatures upon the document which embodies the results of the war and the preparation of which has consumed 11 weeks, a longer time than the war itself. In the meantime the treaty will be engrossed under the supervision of Mr. Moore and Senor Ojeda, the secretaries of the respective commissions.

The Spaniards are exceedingly bitter over the result, though observing the forms of friendliness and courtesy to the end. Senor Montero Rios, whose strong and persistent struggle to save for his country every possible asset from the wreck of her colonial empire has commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents, went from the council chamber to his bed, in a state of complete collapse as the result of the long strain and his chagrin over the small fruits of his efforts. Senor Ojeda has been prostrated since Wednesday, and was unable to attend the joint session Thursday.

The Spaniards charge equal blame upon the European powers and the United States for their downfall. One of the Spanish commissioners said:

"The European nations have made a great mistake in deserting Spain and leaving her to spoliation by the brute force of a conscienceless giant. They all know that in the Philippines America has taken more than she can digest. She will ultimately sell the islands to England or Germany, and when the transfer is attempted it will precipitate general European strife.

"We have refused to sell any island in the Carolines. We never thought of considering an offer. Nor have we consented to negotiate upon any questions except those directly involved in the protocol signed at Washington."

At a recent session Senor Rios referred to the Maine, but in only one calmly worded sentence, expressing regret that the president had spoken, as Spaniards thought, unjustly of them. The Spaniards had already proposed, at this conference, to have the responsibility of the Maine reported upon by a joint commission of the European powers. The American commissioners refused to listen to this, and permitted Senor Rios' reference to the president's message to pass unchallenged, as a discussion would have provoked debate and bad blood.

Some of the members of the commissions said the treaty will contain little outside the scope of the Washington protocol and the matters directly based thereon, like the provisions for the evacuation of the ceded territories, the transfer of public property therein and guarantees of the safety of the property and rights of the Spanish citizens remaining there.

The details of the last class of questions covered by the statement which the Americans handed to Senor Montero Rios at the last meeting were considered, but the commissioners refused to divulge the details of the conference.

The Spaniards refuse to admit that they had failed to respect former treaties guaranteeing religious freedom in the Caroline islands, or that there was a necessity for new guarantees.

The French government is reported to have resolved to take up the case of the French holders of Cuban bonds, and it is believed France will declare that the repudiation of the bonds is the result of the treaty which the victorious nation imposed upon Spain. They argue that through the treaty responsibility has been shifted upon America, and therefore, the French government will endeavor to exact some pledge for the payment or guarantee of the bonds.

SENATOR HOAR is learning that his opposition to expansion has placed him in a rough and rocky road. He has found it necessary to explain his position.

IF the women are to get after Congressman Roberts, the Mormon, he might save himself trouble and expense by giving up at once. They do not like the doctrine he preaches and practices.

THE announcement of Prosecutor Brookes that the parties responsible for the condition of the First National bank of Lisbon will be punished as soon as the responsibility can be placed, is cheering intelligence. It will doubtless have an influence that will be felt where it is most needed.

WHILE it is possible congress will take up the recent race riots in North Carolina nothing has yet been done in that direction. There is a strong sentiment, however, that the matter should be sifted to the bottom and the country given a thorough understanding of the condition of affairs.

SINCE an Ohio man has been made chairman of the river and harbor committee it is to be hoped he will not forget the big river marking the southern boundary of the state. Other and much less important streams can obtain ample appropriations, but for some reason the Ohio can only secure a small amount.

BAILEY, the Texan who desires to lead Democracy's host in the house of representatives, is unfortunate at this time. Perhaps he would stand better with his party if he had done as Joe Wheeler did or even followed the example of Bryan. But Bailey did not thirst for military glory, and now it seems as though he would be given ample time to reflect on his folly.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

There need be no cause for the alarm felt by the anti-expansionists. This government will continue in its way, it matters not what territory will be annexed. The questions arising from the acquisition of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines will be settled as have many other equally important matters without the country going to the dogs. The new calamity cry differs somewhat from those we have heard in recent years, but it is a calamity cry just the same.

PYTHIAN CONTEST OVER

Outer Guard the Cause of a Lively Battle.

ALL OTHERS SLIP IN EASILY

Because There Was but One Candidate For Each Office—Charges of Illegal Methods Being Used In the Election Have Been Made.

Voting on the Grand lodge officers of Pythianism of Ohio ended last night.

On all offices save one the vote has been but a matter of form, as there is a contest but for one office, that of the grand outer guard. For the last three years, since the fight over the candidacy of M. A. Bridge, of Columbus, for grand chancellor, it has been established that after a man gets into a Grand lodge chair he is pretty sure of going through unless extraordinary conditions prevail. This accounts for there being but one man on the ticket for each of the offices, each candidate having stepped up one notch from that which he held during the year just closing. Grand lodge officers, however, start into the chairs with the grand outer guard and on this position is the contest.

This year there are three candidates, James Dunn, of Cleveland; Charles Edgar Brown, of Cincinnati; Andrew L. Dow, of Findlay. The contest between them has been sharp. Messrs. Dunn and Brown are very well known to the Pythians of the state, while Mr. Dow is making his first effort toward recognition. The fight is therefore between Messrs. Dunn and Brown. The latter is to all appearances far in the lead, according to reports received from the grand secretary at Toledo, and unless the ratio changes materially from that which has been maintained to this time, he will be the choice of the lodges of the state. The friends of Mr. Dunn claim that the workers for Mr. Brown have used unfair means, and say that a fake circular has been sent out from Cincinnati, claiming to come from the past chancellors of Cleveland, in which the candidacy of Mr. Brown is endorsed. They say that Mr. Dunn has the entire support of the Cleveland Knights, despite the fact that Mr. Brown's friends would try to make the Pythians of the state believe otherwise.

The friends of Mr. Brown admit that such a circular letter was sent and they say it is authentic. They claim there are two past chancellors' organizations in Cleveland. One of them indorses the candidacy of Mr. Brown and the other indorses that of Mr. Dunn. The organization that stood for Mr. Brown sent out the circular in question. This divided the vote in Cleveland. One lodge gave Brown 11 and Dunn 8, while in the other lodges Dunn prevailed and but a few scattering votes were registered for his opponent. The vote shows that Mr. Dunn is running well in the northern part of the state and Brown in the central and the southern districts. Dow is making inroads on Dunn's following in the north. He comes from the same section. This practically divides Dunn's vote and gives Brown the advantage that he would not otherwise have.

William Betty, grand secretary, had received returns from 153 lodges. They gave Dunn 306, Brown 875, Dow 289, indicating the election of Brown.

FOR ARMY AND NAVY.

Urgent Deficiency Bill Passed the House Practically Without Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The urgent deficiency bill to provide for the support of the military and naval establishments was passed by the house practically without opposition. A fear had been expressed that the measure might open up a prolonged debate upon the conduct of the war, but the Democratic leaders decided that such a debate would properly come later on the regular appropriation bills or upon the bill for the reorganization of the army.

The conference report upon the bill to render the sureties of consuls, vice consuls and consular agents liable for damages in suits at law was adopted.

The house adjourned over until Monday to give the committees an opportunity to work without interruption.

CANAL BILL BROUGHT FORWARD.

The Senate Then Took an Adjournment to Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate held a short session and then adjourned until Monday after making the Nicaragua canal bill the unfinished business before that body. Mr. Morgan called up the measure, whereupon Mr. Pettigrew moved to adjourn.

This motion failed—13 ayes to 42 noes—when the bill was brought forward. Adjournment was immediately taken. During the session Mr. Vest stated his opposition to the hurried manner of passing pension bills in the senate and gave notice that he would insist upon a a quorum being present when pension bills were being acted upon.

CHARGES OF CORRUPTION.

Senator Vest Introduced a Resolution to Investigate War Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced in the senate a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the charges of corruption in the conduct of the war with Spain.

Hawaiian Bill Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate committee on foreign relations held a meeting to consider the bill reported by the Hawaiian commission for the government of the Hawaiian Islands. The bill was only considered in a very general way, the committee deciding to postpone the detail work upon it for a week.

Lumber Schedule the Rock Ahead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The session of the Canadian joint high commission was again devoted to the reciprocity clause, but there is no official intimation of how far or how amicably this discussion has proceeded. It is understood that the rock ahead at this stage is in the lumber schedule.

Woodford Called at White House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Former minister to Spain, Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, arrived in Washington on a business visit. He called at the White House and remained for some time.

To Prohibit Appointment of Members.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced a bill in the senate prohibiting the appointment of senators and members of the house on presidential commissions.

Spanish War Pension Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The first of the special pension bills growing out of the Spanish-American war to be introduced at the present session is that of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts to pension the widow of Captain Dickinson, Seventeenth United States infantry, mortally wounded during the fight at El Caney, on July 1 last. Other bills, coming over last session, are those to pension the mother of Worth Bagley, the naval ensign, who lost his life on the torpedoboat Winslow during the bombardment of Cardenas, and to pension the widow of Captain Gridley, commander of Admiral Dewey's flagship, Olympia, during the battle of Manila.

PYTHIAN CONTEST OVER

Outer Guard the Cause of a Lively Battle.

ALL OTHERS SLIP IN EASILY

Because There Was but One Candidate For Each Office—Charges of Illegal Methods Being Used In the Election Have Been Made.

Voting on the Grand lodge officers of Pythianism of Ohio ended last night.

On all offices save one the vote has been but a matter of form, as there is a contest but for one office, that of the grand outer guard. For the last three years, since the fight over the candidacy of M. A. Bridge, of Columbus, for grand chancellor, it has been established that after a man gets into a Grand lodge chair he is pretty sure of going through unless extraordinary conditions prevail. This accounts for there being but one man on the ticket for each of the offices, each candidate having stepped up one notch from that which he held during the year just closing. Grand lodge officers, however, start into the chairs with the grand outer guard and on this position is the contest.

This year there are three candidates, James Dunn, of Cleveland; Charles Edgar Brown, of Cincinnati; Andrew L. Dow, of Findlay. The contest between them has been sharp. Messrs. Dunn and Brown are very well known to the Pythians of the state, while Mr. Dow is making his first effort toward recognition. The fight is therefore between Messrs. Dunn and Brown. The latter is to all appearances far in the lead, according to reports received from the grand secretary at Toledo, and unless the ratio changes materially from that which has been maintained to this time, he will be the choice of the lodges of the state. FOR ARMY AND NAVY.

Urgent Deficiency Bill Passed the House Practically Without Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The urgent deficiency bill to provide for the support of the military and naval establishments was passed by the house practically without opposition. A fear had been expressed that the measure might open up a prolonged debate upon the conduct of the war, but the Democratic leaders decided that such a debate would properly come later on the regular appropriation bills or upon the bill for the reorganization of the army.

The conference report upon the bill to render the sureties of consuls, vice consuls and consular agents liable for damages in suits at law was adopted.

The house adjourned over until Monday to give the committees an opportunity to work without interruption.

CANAL BILL BROUGHT FORWARD.

The Senate Then Took an Adjournment to Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate held a short session and then adjourned until Monday after making the Nicaragua canal bill the unfinished business before that body. Mr. Morgan called up the measure, whereupon Mr. Pettigrew moved to adjourn.

This motion failed—13 ayes to 42 noes—when the bill was brought forward. Adjournment was immediately taken. During the session Mr. Vest stated his opposition to the hurried manner of passing pension bills in the senate and gave notice that he would insist upon a a quorum being present when pension bills were being acted upon.

CHARGES OF CORRUPTION.

Senator Vest Introduced a Resolution to Investigate War Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced in the senate a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the charges of corruption in the conduct of the war with Spain.

Hawaiian Bill Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate committee on foreign relations held a meeting to consider the bill reported by the Hawaiian commission for the government of the Hawaiian Islands. The bill was only considered in a very general way, the committee deciding to postpone the detail work upon it for a week.

Lumber Schedule the Rock Ahead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The session the Canadian joint high commission was again devoted to the reciprocity clause, but there is no official intimation of how far or how amicably this discussion has proceeded. It is understood that the rock ahead at this stage is in the lumber schedule.

Woodford Called at White House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Former minister to Spain, Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, arrived in Washington on a business visit. He called at the White House and remained for some time.

To Prohibit Appointment of Members.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced a bill in the senate prohibiting the appointment of senators and members of the house on presidential commissions.

Spanish War Pension Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The first of the special pension bills growing out of the Spanish-American war to be introduced at the present session is that of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts to pension the widow of Captain Dickinson, Seventeenth United States infantry, mortally wounded during the fight at El Caney, on July 1 last. Other bills, coming over last session, are those to pension the mother of Worth Bagley, the naval ensign, who lost his life on the torpedoboat Winslow during the bombardment of Cardenas, and to pension the widow of Captain Gridley, commander of Admiral Dewey's flagship, Olympia, during the battle of Manila.

The American China Company After Its Bonus.

FIRST SUIT HAS BEEN ENTERED

Toronto Subscribed Liberally to Have F. W. Fowler and His Associates Take the Plant, But Payment Seems to Have Been Slow.

The Toronto Tribune of yesterday afternoon contained the following decidedly interesting item:

"The American China Co., who have been quite lenient with the Toronto people who subscribed to the bonus fund for the location of the company here, are now placing these accounts in the hands of attorneys for collection, since a number have absolutely refused to pay the amounts subscribed. The first suit which will be begun by the company is the American China Co. vs. P. P. Smyth. A large number of suits will be entered today in a justice court against others. The company is determined to collect the amounts the people voluntarily subscribed."

INDEPENDENT.

What the Ford City Company Said to the Trust Managers.

The only good story growing out of the formation of the trust comes from Ford City, and was related here yesterday for the first time.

It seems that Promoter Tapscott was very anxious to have the new Ford City plant in the combination, and wired the company to send a representative to New York. In a very few minutes an answer was on its way. It stated in the fewest words possible that the Ford City Pottery company transacted its business at Ford City, and if Mr. Tapscott wanted to do business with them he could come to Ford City.

Whether the gentleman availed himself of the terse invitation has not been learned.

MORE CONTRACTS SIGNED.

Travelers Will Take to the Road as Usual.

It has been learned on the highest authority that a number of salesmen yesterday arranged with their employers to go out early in January as usual, adding to the list referred to in the NEWS REVIEW of Thursday.

"You see this is absolutely necessary," said a manufacturing potter in explaining the matter. "The trust is a big institution, and it will take it some time to put its affairs in operation, perhaps almost a year. It will therefore be necessary for the concerns in the combination to market their goods as heretofore. Should the trust be formed, I am confident it will not do business until next fall. The detail attending the organization of such an institution is almost beyond conception."

NOT SO MUCH MONEY

Was Paid Out Today by the Railroad Company.

FIRE PLUG WAS FROZEN

So Extinguishers Were Used by the Company

IS TRYING TO SAVE A HOUSE

The People Who Reside There Were Out of Town--Successful Services at the Mission--Cleveland Lady Well Known Here is Dead--All the News.

The fire company was called last night to a dwelling occupied by William Kerr in Broadway.

The fire had started in the stairway leading to the cellar, and was discovered by Mrs. Leroy Barr, who lives next door. The fire plug nearby was found frozen, but extinguishers were used by the company and the fire confined to the house although other buildings were in danger. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were not at home. There was no insurance on household effects or the building.

The dwelling was that from which household goods were stolen last fall and a sensation resulted because it was said the thief was a woman. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Former Resident Dead.

Word was received last night of the death of Mrs. Cyrus Householder, a former resident of Wellsville. She died of cancer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Bunting, in Cleveland.

Mrs. Householder is an aunt of James Blue, and beside relations she had hosts of friends and neighbors here who will hear the news with regret. It is expected that the body will be brought here for interment, but arrangements have not yet been made.

Successful Services.

The meetings that have been in progress at the Evangelical mission have been very successful. The last night there were 40 at the altar, while the attendance was large.

Presiding Elder Seagar has come from Cleveland to assist Reverend Gamertsfelder in a series of meetings that will be held in the Evangelical church. Prayermeeting was held throughout today.

CITIZEN SPEAKS.

He Believes In the Beauties of a Practical Education.

"Yes, I am a believer in practical living and in practical business principles, and these are great factors in the solution of the problem of a genuine education, fitting our boys and girls for life pursuits and enterprises. The higher branches are essentials under certain circumstances and surroundings. I have not the time and you have not the space to permit elaboration of this thought or field. Brevity and argument, when the point can be reached aright, is a very desirable feature. I desire that my boys and girls shall first be pastmasters in geography, orthography, arithmetic and penmanship; and afterward, if time and money can be granted them, the so-called higher or fancy branches of education can be taken into consideration.

TOOK HIM TO PRISON

Because the Trustees Had No Place to Take Him.

SAD CONDITION OF J. M'ILHANEY

He Was Found In a Shanty In Jethro Too Ill to Care For Himself and With No One to Help Him--Could Not Take Him to the Infirmary.

A case of extreme destitution was Wednesday reported to the township trustees.

Trustee Beardmore at once investigated the case, and going to Jethro found John McIlhaney living in a shanty without any person to care for him and almost helpless. The trustee did what he could for McIlhaney, and he promised to appear at the office of the township trustees and asked that he be sent to Industry where he had friends who he said would care for him.

He failed to go to the office of the trustees yesterday, and a physician was sent to his house last evening and the case was further investigated by the trustees and McIlhaney was found to be in a very pitiable condition by the township physician. The patrol was called and he was taken to jail where he was fed and spent the night.

This morning he was looked after by the trustees and physician and was found to be in a very weak condition from lack of food and the cold, and the physician expressed the opinion that if an attempt was made to take him to the infirmary he would die before Lisbon was reached. The trustees will notify the infirmary directors, and in the meantime will find a place for McIlhaney to stay where he can receive the proper treatment.

FIRE PLUG WAS FROZEN

So Extinguishers Were Used by the Company

IS TRYING TO SAVE A HOUSE

The People Who Reside There Were Out of Town--Successful Services at the Mission--Cleveland Lady Well Known Here is Dead--All the News.

The fire company was called last night to a dwelling occupied by William Kerr in Broadway.

The fire had started in the stairway leading to the cellar, and was discovered by Mrs. Leroy Barr, who lives next door. The fire plug nearby was found frozen, but extinguishers were used by the company and the fire confined to the house although other buildings were in danger. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were not at home. There was no insurance on household effects or the building.

The dwelling was that from which household goods were stolen last fall and a sensation resulted because it was said the thief was a woman. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Former Resident Dead.

Word was received last night of the death of Mrs. Cyrus Householder, a former resident of Wellsville. She died of cancer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Bunting, in Cleveland.

Mrs. Householder is an aunt of James Blue, and beside relations she had hosts of friends and neighbors here who will hear the news with regret. It is expected that the body will be brought here for interment, but arrangements have not yet been made.

Successful Services.

The meetings that have been in progress at the Evangelical mission have been very successful. The last night there were 40 at the altar, while the attendance was large.

Presiding Elder Seagar has come from Cleveland to assist Reverend Gamertsfelder in a series of meetings that will be held in the Evangelical church. Prayermeeting was held throughout today.

TOOK HIM TO PRISON

Because the Trustees Had No Place to Take Him.

SAD CONDITION OF J. M'ILHANEY

He Was Found In a Shanty In Jethro Too Ill to Care For Himself and With No One to Help Him--Could Not Take Him to the Infirmary.

A case of extreme destitution was Wednesday reported to the township trustees.

Trustee Beardmore at once investigated the case, and going to Jethro found John McIlhaney living in a shanty without any person to care for him and almost helpless. The trustee did what he could for McIlhaney, and he promised to appear at the office of the township trustees and asked that he be sent to Industry where he had friends who he said would care for him.

He failed to go to the office of the trustees yesterday, and a physician was sent to his house last evening and the case was further investigated by the trustees and McIlhaney was found to be in a very pitiable condition by the township physician. The patrol was called and he was taken to jail where he was fed and spent the night.

This morning he was looked after by the trustees and physician and was found to be in a very weak condition from lack of food and the cold, and the physician expressed the opinion that if an attempt was made to take him to the infirmary he would die before Lisbon was reached. The trustees will notify the infirmary directors, and in the meantime will find a place for McIlhaney to stay where he can receive the proper treatment.

NOT YET READY TO ACT

But Lisbon Bank Wreckers Will Be Punished

WHEN RESPONSIBILITY IS PLACED

Prosecutor J. H. Brookes Says That Nothing Has Been Done, But the Authorities Are Watching the Matter, and Will Move at the Right Time.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The authorities have not yet made an effort to apprehend the parties who are responsible for the condition of the First National bank of this place, but they will move at the proper time.

"Of course we have gone over the situation," said Jason H. Brookes, prosecuting attorney, "but as yet we have done nothing because the responsibility has not been placed. As soon as that is done we are going after the men who are responsible."

Mr. Brookes stated that he knew nothing of the published statement that the board of education was about to move against Auditor Harvey for the amount due that body from M. J. Child. No action has been taken, and members of the board have said nothing to him about it.

NOT YET READY TO ACT

But Lisbon Bank Wreckers Will Be Punished

WHEN RESPONSIBILITY IS PLACED

Prosecutor J. H. Brookes Says That Nothing Has Been Done, But the Authorities Are Watching the Matter, and Will Move at the Right Time.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The authorities have not yet made an effort to apprehend the parties who are responsible for the condition of the First National bank of this place, but they will move at the proper time.

"Of course we have gone over the situation," said Jason H. Brookes, prosecuting attorney, "but as yet we have done nothing because the responsibility has not been placed. As soon as that is done we are going after the men who are responsible."

Mr. Brookes stated that he knew nothing of the published statement that the board of education was about to move against Auditor Harvey for the amount due that body from M. J. Child. No action has been taken, and members of the board have said nothing to him about it.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Catholic Mutual Benefit Association Had a Session.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit association met in their rooms last night and elected officers to serve for one year. They are as follows:

President, Edward A. Geon; first vice president, Thomas Dougherty; secretary, J. N. Creedon; financial secretary, John Godwin; recording secretary, John Kerrigan; treasurer, David O'Hanlon; marshal, John H. Brown; guard, Charles B. Brown; board of trustees, P. Lynch, T. O'Brien, T. Dougherty.

We don't advertise to give one dollar in gold for fifty cents, because you know it can't be done. Neither can we give you $1 worth of clothing for fifty cents, but we do say we will give you full value for your dollar, not only now but at all times.

NOT YET READY TO ACT

But Lisbon Bank Wreckers Will Be Punished

WHEN RESPONSIBILITY IS PLACED

Prosecutor J. H. Brookes Says That Nothing Has Been Done, But the Authorities Are Watching the Matter, and Will Move at the Right Time.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The authorities have not yet made an effort to apprehend the parties who are responsible for the condition of the First National bank of this place, but they will move at the proper time.

"Of course we have gone over the situation," said Jason H. Brookes, prosecuting attorney, "but as yet we have done nothing because the responsibility has not been placed. As soon as that is done we are going after the men who are responsible."

Mr. Brookes stated that he knew nothing of the published statement that the board of education was about to move against Auditor Harvey for the amount due that body from M. J. Child. No action has been taken, and members of the board have said nothing to him about it.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Catholic Mutual Benefit Association Had a Session.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit association met in their rooms last night and elected officers to serve for one year. They are as follows:

President, Edward A. Geon; first vice president, Thomas Dougherty; secretary, J. N. Creedon; financial secretary, John Godwin; recording secretary, John Kerrigan; treasurer, David O'Hanlon; marshal, John H. Brown; guard, Charles B. Brown; board of trustees, P. Lynch, T. O'Brien, T. Dougherty.

We don't advertise to give one dollar in gold for fifty cents, because you know it can't be done. Neither can we give you $1 worth of clothing for fifty cents, but we do say we will give you full value for your dollar, not only now but at all times.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Miss Bertha Adam, of Leetonia, is the guest of friends in the city.

The street force are loafing today as they can do no work until there is a thaw.

The water works trustees and the library directors will hold meetings this evening.

The Eastern Star last evening installed officers and spent a very pleasant time.

Business is very slow in the local squires' courts and only one new case has been filed this week.

Mrs. William Beardmore, who fell on the ice several days ago and broke her arm, is slowly improving.

Officer Frank White has resumed his beat. He has been suffering with an injured leg for almost four weeks.

J. F. Aden, of Kentucky, who spent several weeks in this city during September, is expected to return next week.

Capt. W. M. Hill was in Pittsburg today attending to some personal business He will return to the city this evening.

J. French Kerr, a student at Western University of Pennsylvania, was in the city last evening attending the Columbian dance.

Night Watchman Maple, of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road in this city, is much improved. He has been suffering for several weeks with a severe cold.

Clerk McClure, who conducted the October civil service examination in the city, does not expect any answer from the papers for at least a month and it may be two months.

A construction force of the telephone company from New Castle, Pa., will arrive in the city Monday and set the poles for the new line to be constructed to Riverview cemetery.

The first sledding earty of the season was given last evening by the Jolly Ten, who with their lady friends spent a delightful evening at the home of Frank Raugh, Calcutta.

The Rovers will leave in the morning for McDonald, where they will play football. They will play no more games at home until Christmas day, when they will meet East Pittsburg.

The Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church will hold a social and business meeting tonight. Miss Jean Standish, the elocutionist, will take part in the entertainment.

Work on the Mulberry street culvert in East End has been suspended at least for the present. The culvert is finished with the exception of the paving of the roadway. This work will be completed as soon as the weather moderates.

The United States snagboat, E. A. Woodruff, passed up early this morning going to Pittsburg where it will start the work of cleaning the channel of all obstructions. There is some work for it to do between this place and Wellsville.

A fair amount of business was handled at the freight depot yesterday. There has been a slight decrease in shipments during the last fortnight but still there is much work being done by the rollers. The receiving platform is crowded with inbound freight.

When the railroad men purchased 16 feet of the Mountford property fronting the railroad, a portion of the old pottery was purchased at the same time. This morning the work train with a gang of laborers cleared the strip of ground and it is now ready for the company to lay a siding. The ground has been surveyed and everything is in readiness for the commencement of the work.

OUR PONY CENTURY.

It Is the Very Perfection of Mechanical Skill.

Ben J. Ellis, the skillful and gentlemanly erector for the Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing company, of New York City, paid the NEWS REVIEW office a visit yesterday, on a tour of inspection, enroute from Cincinnati. He received a warm and cordial welcome as the representative of the company which turns out the finest pony century press in all this fair land, a press which gives thorough satisfaction to those who are so fortunate as to have invested therein, and which, under skillful pressmen, such as are employed by the NEWS REVIEW office, turns out job work unequalled in this city and unsurpassed by that of any establishment in the leading cities of the United States. Business men appreciate such work, as is shown by the rush now on our hands, compelling our job department to run almost night and day.

NOT YET READY TO ACT

But Lisbon Bank Wreckers Will Be Punished

WHEN RESPONSIBILITY IS PLACED

Prosecutor J. H. Brookes Says That Nothing Has Been Done, But the Authorities Are Watching the Matter, and Will Move at the Right Time.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The authorities have not yet made an effort to apprehend the parties who are responsible for the condition of the First National bank of this place, but they will move at the proper time.

"Of course we have gone over the situation," said Jason H. Brookes, prosecuting attorney, "but as yet we have done nothing because the responsibility has not been placed. As soon as that is done we are going after the men who are responsible."

Mr. Brookes stated that he knew nothing of the published statement that the board of education was about to move against Auditor Harvey for the amount due that body from M. J. Child. No action has been taken, and members of the board have said nothing to him about it.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Catholic Mutual Benefit Association Had a Session.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit association met in their rooms last night and elected officers to serve for one year. They are as follows:

President, Edward A. Geon; first vice president, Thomas Dougherty; secretary, J. N. Creedon; financial secretary, John Godwin; recording secretary, John Kerrigan; treasurer, David O'Hanlon; marshal, John H. Brown; guard, Charles B. Brown; board of trustees, P. Lynch, T. O'Brien, T. Dougherty.

We don't advertise to give one dollar in gold for fifty cents, because you know it can't be done. Neither can we give you $1 worth of clothing for fifty cents, but we do say we will give you full value for your dollar, not only now but at all times.

14TH YEAR. NO. 155. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, DEC. 9, 1898. TWO CENTS

AGAINST THE MORMON.

Movement to Keep Roberts Out of Congress.

WOMEN ARE TO TAKE A HAND.

Meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Board of Missions to Be Held Dec. 20 in New York—Congregationalists and Baptists Also to Act.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Efforts to prevent Brigham H. Roberts, representative-elect from Utah, from taking his seat in the Fifty-sixth congress, because he is a polygamist and advocates that doctrine of the Mormon church, is to have the organized support of hundreds of thousands of women in the United States.

The initial women's movement is to take organized form in this city at a meeting of the Presbyterian women's board of home missions, on Dec. 20.

There are 100,000 members of the Presbyterian Home Missions society in the United States.

The Home Missions societies of the Congregational and Baptist churches are preparing to make a similar campaign against Roberts and the women's societies of other denominations are becoming interested in the fight. It is intended that all shall co-operate.

TWENTY-FIVE PERISHED.

Brave Rescue of the Rest on Board the Londonian, Which Went Down at Sea.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9.—The Johnston line steamer Vedamore of Liverpool, with 45 shipwrecked mariners and cattlemen, which she picked up at sea, arrived here. Twenty-five other mariners and cattlemen went down with their ship.

The men landed are the survivors of the British steamship Londonian of London, bound from Boston for London. Nov. 23, in a violent gale her cargo shifted and she almost capsized, she finally resting on her beam ends, with big seas breaking over her. For two days she drifted about at the mercy of the winds and waves. Assistance came at about 5 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 25. The Vedamore hove in sight and was signalled.

About noon, in the teeth of a stiff gale, Second Officer Hobbs and a volunteer crew gallantly launched one of the Vedamore's boats and attempted to reach the sinking Londonian for about three hours, but failed. Captain Bartlett then steamed to the windward of the doomed steamer, and several other attempts to rescue the Londonian's crew were made fruitlessly.

As it grew too dark to do anything more the Vedamore stood by. During the night the wind increased and by morning it was blowing very hard.

For hours life buoys, with lines attached, were floated toward the Londonian and at last her crew succeeded in getting one aboard. One of the Vedamore's lifeboats, improvised as a life-car, made a trip successfully and 22 half-frozen, exhausted men were hauled up over the side of the Vedamore. As the boat was going back to the Londonian wreck a big sea demolished it. The lines were carried away and the communication broken.

Chief Officer Doran of the Vedamore volunteered to launch another lifeboat to attempt the rescue. The seas were by this time terrific. For about two hours the boat's crew struggled at the oars but failed. When they returned the boat was smashed against the ship's side and lost. They all came near drowning. Another fearful night of peril and fear passed. The next morning 23 of the men of the Londonian succeeded in launching one of their own boats and reached the Vedamore. Their boat was also lost and all that day was spent in trying to again establish communication. The gale was constantly increasing and all efforts to save the others were in vain.

Even after night had fallen the Vedamore was kept cruising about in the vicinity, but when day broke next morning the Londonian had vanished.

Steamer Pentagoet Still Missing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—N. L. Newcomb, the general agent of the Manhattan Steamship company, said that it was a most perplexing mystery to him that no information could be gotten about the missing steamer Pentagoet. He feels compelled to conclude that she is lost, and the only hope is that the crew, composed of Captain O. R. Ingraham and 18 men, have been picked up by some vessel bound for a foreign port.

PRIEST PRAISED GENERAL WOOD.

Said He Hoped He Would Be Made Governor General of Cuba.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 9.—There has been great rejoicing in connection with the fete of Purisima Concepcion.

Abbe Bernardo preached an eloquent sermon at the cathedral. He called upon all Cubans to rejoice at the termination of 400 years of cruelty, extortion and misery and to show their gratitude to the United States. He eulogized General Wood, saying that he rejoiced to hear that General Wood's name had been sent to the United States senate with a recommendation that he be raised to the rank of major general. "And I can only hope," said the preacher, "that General Wood's name will be sent a week later with a recommendation that he be appointed a lieutenant general and made governor general of the island of Cuba during the American military occupation."

STERNBERG A WITNESS.

He Defended the Conduct of the Medical Department During the War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The conduct of the medical service of the army was taken up by the war investigating commission and Surgeon General Sternberg was rigidly questioned about his administration. The medical department, he said, was equipped only for an army of 25,000 men when the war broke out and from year to year the estimates he had submitted had been materially reduced by congress in a policy of economy of appropriations. As soon as there was a prospect of war he had begun preparations, though not making any expense. He had models of chests made, he said, and equipment developed, but when he suggested to Secretary Alger the propriety of making purchases for his service, "the policy was to wait." He said at one time there were as many as 650 contract surgeons employed.

He conceded it was a mistake not to have appointed more contract surgeons from those who had experience in the Civil war, for their experience would have been invaluable, but he was ignorant at the outset of the permanency of the camps. It had been impossible for him even to read the great volume of reports submitted, owing to being overwhelmed with matters requiring personal attention.

He could not recollect whether the chief surgeon at Camp Thomas had reported that the sanitation there was bad. The department now, he said, has ample evidence that typhoid cases during the war were largely mistaken for malarial fever until the cases reached the divis on hospitals, and that malaria also had been diagnosed as typhoid.

He said that, with time, it was practicable to secure a fairly large number of nurses, but their training took time, and he admitted in war time might be at the expense of the patients. He acknowledged the services of volunteer aid associations and said the trained female nurses were satisfactory. Witness admitted a real deficiency in medical supplies at times.

At Santiago their landing was delayed owing to exigency of the times; and railroads failed to get them through in time at other points. He contended, however, that there had been very little lack of medical supplies during the war, the great difficulty being that surgeons frequently preferred other than the "field supply" and an unticipated typhoid fever outbreak had also considerably taxed the field surgeons.

General Sternberg said after the purchase of the John English, as a hospital ship, there was a lapse of three weeks during which no work had been done. She sailed on the date of the battle of Santiago and had she sailed five days sooner the medical supplies at the battleground would have been ample. The witness refused to say the delay was unnecessary or on whom the responsibility should rest.

He said emphatically that he could do no more in his office than send supplies where he thought they were needed and respond promptly to requisitions.

After some questioning, General Beaver said: "Then we are to understand you had at all times the hearty support and good will of those over you in forwarding the work of your department?"

"Yes," was the reply, "most undoubtedly."

As to the general condition of troops in mobilization camps, he said the trouble could nearly all be summed up in the two phrases, "neglect of sanitary measures" and "letting the troops remain too long in one camp."

"You have to do one of two things," said he. "You must maintain your permanent camp under the sanitary conditions of civilized life, or you must follow the Indian method and shift your camp when you foul your ground. I can make rules which, if followed, will insure reasonable immunity from typhoid, but I cannot insure their being followed by the men in the field."

PRAISED AMERICAN REGULARS.

A German Attache Told of What He Saw In Cuba.

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—Count A. von Goetzen, who was commissioned by Emperor William to accompany the United States army during the Spanish-American war, addressed a large and distinguished audience at the Kaiserhof on "The Newest Colonial Power."

He said the only good volunteers were the rough riders. He severely condemned the insurgents who, he said, rendered little assistance to the Americans.

He praised General Shafter's treatment of the foreign officers who accompanied his staff. The United States regulars were characterized by the lecturer as "a most excellent body, though small."

Count Von Goetzen prophesied a great future for the new American colonies, because, he said, "the Americans are prime colonists."

ALL BUT THE SIGNING.

Peace Commissioners Through Negotiating In Paris.

TOMORROW OR MONDAY THE DAY.

The Representatives of the Two Governments Will Likely Attach Their Names Then—Articles Almost Confined to the Peace Protocol.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The United States and the Spanish peace commissioners concluded their work and finally settled the terms of the treaty of peace, and they will meet once more in formal session tomorrow or Monday next, when the Spanish commissioners sorrowfully and the Americans with feelings of relief will write their signatures upon the document which embodies the results of the war and the preparation of which has consumed 11 weeks, a longer time than the war itself. In the meantime the treaty will be engrossed under the supervision of Mr. Moore and Senor Ojeda, the secretaries of the respective commissions.

The Spaniards are exceedingly bitter over the result, though observing the forms of friendliness and courtesy to the end. Senor Montero Rios, whose strong and persistent struggle to save for his country every possible asset from the wreck of her colonial empire has commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents, went from the council chamber to his bed, in a state of complete collapse as the result of the long strain and his chagrin over the small fruits of his efforts. Senor Ojeda has been prostrated since Wednesday, and was unable to attend the joint session Thursday.

The Spaniards charge equal blame upon the European powers and the United States for their downfall. One of the Spanish commissioners said:

"The European nations have made a great mistake in deserting Spain and leaving her to spoliation by the brute force of a conscienceless giant. They all know that in the Philippines America has taken more than she can digest. She will ultimately sell the islands to England or Germany, and when the transfer is attempted it will precipitate general European strife.

"We have refused to sell any island in the Carolines. We never thought of considering an offer. Nor have we consented to negotiate upon any questions except those directly involved in the protocol signed at Washington."

At a recent session Senor Rios referred to the Maine, but in only one calmly worded sentence, expressing regret that the president had spoken, as Spaniards thought, unjustly of them. The Spaniards had already proposed, at this conference, to have the responsibility of the Maine reported upon by a joint commission of the European powers. The American commissioners refused to listen to this, and permitted Senor Rios' reference to the president's message to pass unchallenged, as a discussion would have provoked debate and bad blood.

Some of the members of the commissions said the treaty will contain little outside the scope of the Washington protocol and the matters directly based thereon, like the provisions for the evacuation of the ceded territories, the transfer of public property therein and guarantees of the safety of the property and rights of the Spanish citizens remaining there.

The details of the last class of questions covered by the statement which the Americans handed to Senor Montero Rios at the last meeting were considered, but the commissioners refused to divulge the details of the conference.

The Spaniards refuse to admit that they had failed to respect former treaties guaranteeing religious freedom in the Caroline islands, or that there was a necessity for new guarantees.

The French government is reported to have resolved to take up the case of the French holders of Cuban bonds, and it is believed France will declare that the repudiation of the bonds is the result of the treaty which the victorious nation imposed upon Spain. They argue that through the treaty responsibility has been shifted upon America, and therefore, the French government will endeavor to exact some pledge for the payment or guarantee of the bonds.

Sailed With Troops For Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The steamer Roumania sailed from Savannah, carrying the entire First regiment of North Carolina, with their transportation, to serve as part of the garrison of Havana. The Second Illinois regiment was loading at Savannah for the same destination.

Prominent Nominees Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate confirmed these nominations: Powell Clayton of Arkansas, to be ambassador to Mexico. Brigadier generals to be major generals, Guy V. Henry, U. S. A., and Leonard Wood, U. S. V.

Garcia Has Pneumonia.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—General Garcia's illness has developed into pneumonia and two physicians are in attendance. Because of his advanced age, 62 years, the outcome is viewed with some apprehension.

TWO WANDERERS

Told a Pitiful Tale at City Hall Last Night.

There were no arrests made during last night or this morning, and as a result the jail is empty.

Several persons were given lodging and this morning were turned out.

There were three of these tourists of which one couple claimed to be man and wife. They went in city hall about 8 o'clock and their condition was most pitiable. They had a bundle of clothing in their possession, and a small dog. While they were eating a lunch they told a tale and a wild one it was. They said they were on their way to Cincinnati and took the river route because it was the shortest. They started from a Pennsylvania town and expected to reach their destination by Christmas.

No complaints were made during the morning, and had it not been for the selling to minor cases not an arrest would have been made this week.

So far the police have not been able to locate Thomas Garen, who is wanted on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the Bagley company. A member of the firm stated this morning that so far the shortage amounts to about $500. Not all the trade has been seen yet and it is thought when this is done the amount will be increased.

THIEVES.

They Are Unusually Active In the Upper Part of Town.

Last midnight someone was heard at a side window of a house in Avondale street, occupied by a family named Beck. Several male members were up at the time, and one of them hearing the sound procured his revolver and went after the individual by the way of a back door. The would-be robber heard the man and ran away, and has not as yet been heard of. A description of the man was obtained, and a search is now being made for him.

Henry Bullock while going to his home in College street last night, was asked by a strange looking character for his money as he was passing the corner of College and Kossuth streets. The man had his hat down over his eyes and when he was told by Bullock that he had made a mistake in the party, he became very gruff, and said many things he should not have said. Bullock made an attempt to get his revolver, and when the man saw this he made his escape.

The cases have been reported to the police.

DIRECTOR M'BRIDE

Will Likely Be Appointed to Fill the Vacant Months.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The witnesses before the grand jury today are from Lisbon and Palestine.

No appointment has been made to fill the vacancy in the board of infirmary directors. Another matter not generally known is the fact that Director McBride's first term of office expires January 2, while his second term does not commence until the first Monday in September. The commissioners will appoint some one for the interim. McBride will probably receive the appointment.

On the River.

A slight fall in the river yesterday and last night brought the marks at the wharf to the 7 foot stage. The river is in bad condition at present owing to floating ice, and colder weather is expected by rivermen. This will cause a big flow of ice out of the Allegheny.

The Virginia was up on time today, arriving at 8 o'clock this morning, and after staying a short time at the wharf left for Pittsburg.

The Cummins and Bedford are down tonight, and the Ben Hur and Greenwood were down last night.

Business at the wharf is fair.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John Peake, of West End, was in Pittsburg today on business.

—D. H. Alexandee, of Washington, D. C., is spending several days in the city on business.

—Harry Wylie, of Toronto, was in the city last evening, attending the Columbian club party.

—Miss Katherine Craft, of Bethany, W. Va., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craft, Fourth street.

—Mrs. Charles Berg and Mrs. John Rigot, who have been spending several days in Pittsburg, visiting friends, have returned to the city.

MAY EXTEND THE ROAD

W. & L. E. to Be Built to Coke Fields, if Sold.

FEDERAL STEEL COMPANY AFTER IT

Reported That the Same Company Also Is Trying to Buy the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling—Also Talk of a New Branch Line.

CANAL DOVER, Dec. 9.—In connection with the reported purchase of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad by the Federal Steel company it is asserted by an official of the railroad that negotiations are also pending for the acquisition of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road by the iron company. It is stated that in case the deal goes through the road will be extended from the Ohio river to the Pennsylvania coke fields.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—It is the report among iron men here that the Federal Steel company is considering the advisability of building a railroad from its Lorain plant to Cleveland, a distance of about 25 miles. Surveys are known to have been under way recently.

Such a connection would give an outlet over all the lines running into Cleveland, and provide the steel company with terminals which would entitle it to its percentage on all outgoing and incoming traffic. The report has not been confirmed. It is the opinion, if the plan is carried out, the steel company will purchase the Cleveland Belt Line railway.

Should the steel company purchase the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad, for which it is said to be negotiating, it would not be necessary for them to construct the Cleveland and Lorain line, as the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling has extended its line between the two points named.

Lewis and Supporters Withdrew.

ZANESVILLE, Dec. 9.—August Smith of Toledo was elected president of the Ohio Federation of Labor here after L. T. Lewis of Bridgeport, the former president, and a company of supporters had withdrawn from the convention. Lewis undertook to control the convention in the interest of his own re-election, but the convention refused to adopt a credential report seating six delegates on whom Lewis' success depended. A great confusion resulted and the Lewis party walked out.

State Grangers Adjourned.

WOOSTER, Dec. 9.—The Grand Association of Ohio Patrons of Industry, with over 150 delegates from 27 counties of the state, closed a two days' session here. Officers elected were: Grand president, D. W. Williams of Fulton county; vice president, W. M. Carlisle of Knox county; treasurer, Frank Weirke of Henry county; trustees, W. D. Ditmais of Holmes county, H. H. Overman of Sandusky county and D. Laughlin of Coshocton county.

Said He Killed Accidentally.

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—Solomon Wise, a prominent merchant here, was found dead in his clothing store with a bullet hole in his breast. A. W. Weller, cashier of the A. Eruan & Co. bank, was arrested on suspicion and made a confession, saying that he had shot Wise accidentally.

To Get Gillett Back.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Dec. 9.—D. H. Howard, a cattle dealer of Abilene, Kan., who is $40,000 short on Gillett, the Kansas plunger, passed through Las Vegas, enroute from Mexico to Topeka, where he will ask the governor to issue requisition papers for the transfer of Gillett into the custody of the Kansas state authorities. Gillett would have been promptly arrested, but for the defective extradition laws. Two detectives were left to shadow him and his attorney.

Wade Likely to Be Governor.

HAVANA, Dec. 9.—Major General James F. Wade, president of the United States evacuation commission, has received instructions from President McKinley which seem to indicate that he will be appointed military governor of Western Cuba. General Greene will be governor of Havana.

Mataafa's Election Didn't Go.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Dec. 9.—The following advices were received here from Samoa: "The supporters of Mataafa having elected him king, certain chiefs lodged a caveat, which the chief justice has decided in their favor. It is now understood that Tamasese will be nominated."

Aged Woman Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The president has pardoned Amanda V. Grierson, now McCarty, convicted in the southern district of Ohio and sentenced to one year in jail at Lebanon for violation of the pension laws. She is said to be about 70 years of age and in feeble health.

Sailed With Crew In Irons.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—With a majority of his crew in irons, having mutinied, the British ship Jack Burrill, Captain Robertson, hence from Santos with 3,000 tons of coal, passed seaward. Those who know Captain Robertson have no fears but that he will conquer the mutineers.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune."

Capt. W. M. Hill was in Pittsburg today attending to some personal business He will return to the city this evening.

J. French Kerr, a student at Western University of Pennsylvania, was in the city last evening attending the Columbian dance.

Night Watchman Maple, of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road in this city, is much improved. He has been suffering for several weeks with a severe cold.

Clerk McClure, who conducted the October civil service examination in the city, does not expect any answer from the papers for at least a month and it may be two months.

A construction force of the telephone company from New Castle, Pa., will arrive in the city Monday and set the poles for the new line to be constructed to Riverview cemetery.

The first sledding party of the season was given last evening by the Jolly Ten, who with their lady friends spent a delightful evening at the home of Frank Raugh, Calcutta.

The Rovers will leave in the morning for McDonald, where they will play football. They will play no more games at home until Christmas day, when they will meet East Pittsburg.

The Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church will hold a social and business meeting tonight. Miss Jean Standish, the elocutionist, will take part in the entertainment.

Helen Daily, of Allegheny, who has been visiting relatives in this city for several days, returned to her home at noon While here she suffered a bealing on her right foot, and friends were compelled to carry her on the train.

Work on the Mulberry street culvert in East End has been suspended at least for the present. The culvert is finished with the exception of the paving of the roadway. This work will be completed as soon as the weather moderates.

The United States snagboat, E. A. Woodruff, passed up early this morning going to Pittsburg where it will start the work of cleaning the channel of all obstructions. There is some work for it to do between this place and Wellsville.

A fair amount of business was handled at the freight depot yesterday. There has been a slight decrease in shipments during the last fortnight but still there is much work being done by the rollers. The receiving platform is crowded with inbound freight.

When the railroad men purchased 16 feet of the Mountford property fronting the railroad, a portion of the old pottery was purchased at the same time. This morning the work train with a gang of laborers cleared the strip of ground and it is now ready for the company to lay a siding. The ground has been surveyed and everything is in readiness for the commencement of the work.

OUR PONY CENTURY.

It Is the Very Perfection of Mechanical Skill.

Ben J. Ellis, the skillful and gentlemanly erector for the Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing company, of New York City, paid the NEWS REVIEW office a visit yesterday, on a tour of inspection, enroute from Cincinnati. He received a warm and cordial welcome as the representative of the company which turns out the finest pony century press in all this fair land, a press which gives thorough satisfaction to those who are so fortunate as to have invested therein, and which, under skillful pressmen, such as are employed by the NEWS REVIEW office, turns out job work unequalled in this city and unsurpassed by that of any establishment in the leading cities of the United States. Business men appreciate such work, as is shown by the rush now on our hands, compelling our job department to run almost night and day.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miss Bertha Adam, of Leetonia, is the guest of friends in the city.

The street force are loafing today as they can do no work until there is a thaw.

The water works trustees and the library directors will hold meetings this evening.

The Eastern Star last evening installed officers and spent a very pleasant time.

Business is very slow in the local squires' courts and only one new case has been filed this week.

Mrs. William Beardmore, who fell on the ice several days ago and broke her arm, is slowly improving.

Officer Frank White has resumed his beat. He has been suffering with an injured leg for almost four weeks.

J. F. Aden, of Kentucky, who spent several weeks in this city during September, is expected to return next week.

Capt. W. M. Hill was in Pittsburg today attending to some personal business He will return to the city this evening.

J. French Kerr, a student at Western University of Pennsylvania, was in the city last evening attending the Columbian dance.

TEN PAGES.

SENATOR HOAR is learning that his opposition to expansion has placed him in a rough and rocky road. He has found it necessary to explain his position.

IF the women are to get after Congressman Roberts, the Mormon, he might save himself trouble and expense by giving up at once. They do not like the doctrine he preaches and practices.

THE announcement of Prosecutor Brookes that the parties responsible for the condition of the First National bank of Lisbon will be punished as soon as the responsibility can be placed, is cheering intelligence. It will doubtless have an influence that will be felt where it is most needed.

WHILE it is possible congress will take up the recent race riots in North Carolina nothing has yet been done in that direction. There is a strong sentiment, however, that the matter should be sifted to the bottom and the country given a thorough understanding of the condition of affairs.

SINCE an Ohio man has been made chairman of the river and harbor committee it is to be hoped he will not forget the big river marking the southern boundary of the state. Other and much less important streams can obtain ample appropriations, but for some reason the Ohio can only secure a small amount.

BAILEY, the Texan who desires to lead Democracy's host in the house of representatives, is unfortunate at this time. Perhaps he would stand better with his party if he had done as Joe Wheeler did or even followed the example of Bryan. But Bailey did not thirst for military glory, and now it seems as though he would be given ample time to reflect on his folly.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

There need be no cause for the alarm felt by the anti-expansionists. This government will continue in its way, it matters not what territory will be annexed. The questions arising from the acquisition of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines will be settled as have many other equally important matters without the country going to the dogs. The new calamity cry differs somewhat from those we have heard in recent years, but it is a calamity cry just the same.

PYTHIAN CONTEST OVER

Outer Guard the Cause of a Lively Battle.

ALL OTHERS SLIP IN EASILY

Because There Was but One Candidate For Each Office—Charges of Illegal Methods Being Used In the Election Have Been Made.

Voting on the Grand lodge officers of Pythianism of Ohio ended last night.

On all offices save one the vote has been but a matter of form, as there is a contest but for one office, that of the grand outer guard. For the last three years, since the fight over the candidacy of M. A. Bridge, of Columbus, for grand chancellor, it has been established that after a man gets into a Grand lodge chair he is pretty sure of going through unless extraordinary conditions prevail. This accounts for there being but one man on the ticket for each of the offices, each candidate having stepped up one notch from that which he held during the year just closing. Grand lodge officers, however, start into the chairs with the grand outer guard and on this position is the contest.

This year there are three candidates, James Dunn, of Cleveland; Charles Edgar Brown, of Cincinnati; Andrew L. Dow, of Findlay. The contest between them has been sharp. Messrs. Dunn and Brown are very well known to the Pythians of the state, while Mr. Dow is making his first effort toward recognition. The fight is therefore between Messrs. Dunn and Brown. The latter is to all appearances far in the lead, according to reports received from the grand secretary at Toledo, and unless the ratio changes materially from that which has been maintained to this time, he will be the choice of the lodges of the state. The friends of Mr. Dunn claim that the workers for Mr. Brown have used unfair means, and say that a fake circular has been sent out from Cincinnati, claiming to come from the past chancellors of Cleveland, in which the candidacy of Mr. Brown is endorsed. They say that Mr. Dunn has the entire support of the Cleveland Knights, despite the fact that Mr. Brown's friends would try to make the Pythians of the state believe otherwise.

The friends of Mr. Brown admit that such a circular letter was sent and they say it is authentic. They claim there are two past chancellors' organizations in Cleveland. One of them indorses the candidacy of Mr. Brown and the other indorses that of Mr. Dunn. The organization that stood for Mr. Brown sent out the circular in question. This divided the vote in Cleveland. One lodge gave Brown 11 and Dunn 8, while in the other lodges Dunn prevailed and but a few scattering votes were registered for his opponent. The vote shows that Mr. Dunn is running well in the northern part of the state and Brown in the central and the southern districts. Dow is making inroads on Dunn's following in the north. He comes from the same section. This practically divides Dunn's vote and gives Brown the advantage that he would not otherwise have.

William Betty, grand secretary, had received returns from 153 lodges. They gave Dunn 306, Brown 875, Dow 289, indicating the election of Brown.

CONTINUED THE CASE.

Ben Wyand Will Not Be Heard Until Next Monday.

The case of Ben Wyand, charged with selling liquor to minors, to have been heard before Mayor Bough last evening at 5 o'clock, was continued until next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The witnesses in the case are George Wolf, Dave Brown and Frank Green.

When Mayor Bough was asked why the case was continued he said:

"The city solicitor is out of the city and it is best that he should be here."

CUTTING OUT CURVES.

Millions of Dollars Spent on One Railway System.

The elimination of curves and reduction of grades has been going on incessantly on the Pennsylvania lines until the main tracks of that railway system throuhout Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the various branches extending into West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware are about as straight as the topography of the country will permit and requirements demand. A vast amount of labor and large sums of money have been entailed in some instances to avoid grade crossings or to make the movements of trains as smooth as possible, in doing which the comfort of passengers was the first consideration. The annual inspection of the Pennsylvania system showed some wonderful improvements in this direction.

Cooley Is Right.

A writer for the NEWS REVIEW, of East Liverpool, brings the board of education of that city to task for giving out its job work to a Pittsburg firm when the work can be done at a home office in a better manner and at a cheaper figure. The writer claims fraud on the part of some of the members of the school board, and threatens to make an early exposition. He claims that some of the members of the school board of that city are using the school funds for the pecuniary advancement of certain friends and favorites. Mr. "Cooley" is right when he calls the school board to task for sending work to Pittsburg that can and should be done right at home.—Wellsville Union.

Woodruff Is Coming.

The snagboat Woodruff left Cincinnati Monday afternoon for the upper Ohio river on her snag pulling tour, the first she has made in over a year. Theodore Davis and J. H. Sanford are her pilots, the latter having been one of the pilots of the Will J. Cummins.

Almost Ready.

The three houses Councilman R. J. Marshall is erecting in Mulberry street, in East End, will be ready for occupancy about the first of the year. The contractors have almost completed their work.

Trains Were Late.

All the morning trains were late in arriving at the station. The Pittsburg and Bellaire accommodation train was 15 minutes late and the Cleveland train was 35 minutes late, caused by the pay car being on the road between Wellsville and Smith's Ferry.

MORGANZA BOYS.

The Police Have Been Notified of Their Escape.

Chief Johnson yesterday received from Superintendent Quay, of the Pennsylvania reformatory at Morganza, the names of three boys who recently escaped from that institution. A reward of $10 is offered for the capture of each. The names of those who escaped are:

John L. Murphy, No 5,313, home at West Fairfield, Westmoreland county, Pa., 18 years of age, height 5 feet 3 inches, brown hair, gray eyes, dark completion, scar from burn on front of left wrist.

William Luckett, colored, No. 4,771, home at 8 Raleigh street, Pittsburg, Pa., 18 years old, height 5 feet 3 inches, medium color, scar on forehead at edge of hair, one large vaccine on left arm.

Fred Bach, No. 5,357, home at 20 Penn alley, Allegheny, Pa., 14 years old, height 5 feet 2 inches, light hair, gray eyes, fair complexion, some freckles, one vaccine mark on left arm.

All wore white Canton flannel underwear with letter "E," blue and gray striped shirts, trousers and jackets of blue gray cloth, heavy shoes.

FOR ARMY AND NAVY.

Urgent Deficiency Bill Passed the House Practically Without Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The urgent deficiency bill to provide for the support of the military and naval establishments was passed by the house practically without opposition. A fear had been expressed that the measure might open up a prolonged debate upon the conduct of the war, but the Democratic leaders decided that such a debate would properly come later on the regular appropriation bills or upon the bill for the reorganization of the army.

The conference report upon the bill to render the sureties of consuls, vice consuls and consular agents liable for damages in suits at law was adopted.

The house adjourned over until Monday to give the committees an opportunity to work without interruption.

CANAL BILL BROUGHT FORWARD.

The Senate Then Took an Adjournment to Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate held a short session and then adjourned until Monday after making the Nicaragua canal bill the unfinished business before that body. Mr. Morgan called up the measure, whereupon Mr. Pettigrew moved to adjourn.

This motion failed—13 ayes to 42 noes—when the bill was brought forward. Adjournment was immediately taken. During the session Mr. Vest stated his opposition to the hurried manner of passing pension bills in the senate and gave notice that he would insist upon a quorum being present when pension bills were being acted upon.

CHARGES OF CORRUPTION.

Senator Vest Introduced a Resolution to Investigate War Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced in the senate a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the charges of corruption in the conduct of the war with Spain.

Hawaiian Bill Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate committee on foreign relations held a meeting to consider the bill reported by the Hawaiian commission for the government of the Hawaiian Islands. The bill was only considered in a very general way, the committee deciding to postpone the detail work upon it for a week.

Lumber Schedule the Rock Ahead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The session of the Canadian joint high commission was again devoted to the reciprocity clause, but there is no official intimation of how far or how amicably this discussion has proceeded. It is understood that the rock ahead at this stage is in the lumber schedule.

Woodford Called at White House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Former minister to Spain, Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, arrived in Washington on a business visit. He called at the White House and remained for some time.

To Prohibit Appointment of Members.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Senator Vest introduced a bill in the senate prohibiting the appointment of senators and members of the house on presidential commissions.

Spanish War Pension Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The first of the special pension bills growing out of the Spanish-American war to be introduced at the present session is that of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts to pension the widow of Captain Dickinson, Seventeenth United States infantry, mortally wounded during the fight at El Caney, on July 1 last. Other bills, coming over last session, are those to pension the mother of Worth Bagley, the naval ensign, who lost his life on the torpedoboat Winslow during the bombardment of Cardenas, and to pension the widow of Captain Gridley, commander of Admiral Dewey's flagship, Olympia, during the battle of Manila.

COLLECTING BY LAW

The American China Company After Its Bonus.

FIRST SUIT HAS BEEN ENTERED

Toronto Subscribed Liberally to Have F. W. Fowler and His Associates Take the Plant, But Payment Seems to Have Been Slow.

The Toronto Tribune of yesterday afternoon contained the following decidedly interesting item:

"The American China Co., who have been quite lenient with the Toronto people who subscribed to the bonus fund for the location of the company here, are now placing these accounts in the hands of attorneys for collection, since a number have absolutely refused to pay the amounts subscribed. The first suit which will be begun by the company is the American China Co. vs. P. P. Smyth. A large number of suits will be entered today in a justice court against others. The company is determined to collect the amounts the people voluntarily subscribed."

INDEPENDENT.

What the Ford City Company Said to the Trust Managers.

The only good story growing out of the formation of the trust comes from Ford City, and was related here yesterday for the first time.

It seems that Promoter Tapscott was very anxious to have the new Ford City plant in the combination, and wired the company to send a representative to New York. In a very few minutes an answer was on its way. It stated in the fewest words possible that the Ford City Pottery company transacted its business at Ford City, and if Mr. Tapscott wanted to do business with them he could come to Ford City.

Whether the gentleman availed himself of the terse invitation has not been learned.

MORE CONTRACTS SIGNED.

Travelers Will Take to the Road as Usual.

It has been learned on the highest authority that a number of salesmen yesterday arranged with their employers to go out early in January as usual, adding to the list referred to in the NEWS REVIEW of Thursday.

"You see this is absolutely necessary," said a manufacturing potter in explaining the matter. "The trust is a big institution, and it will take it some time to put its affairs in operation, perhaps almost a year. It will therefore be necessary for the concerns in the combination to market their goods as heretofore. Should the trust be formed, I am confident it will not do business until next fall. The detail attending the organization of such an institution is almost beyond conception."

NOT SO MUCH MONEY

Was Paid Out Today by the Railroad Company.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg pay car, in charge of Paymaster Dury, passed through the city this morning at 8:20 o'clock going east The car was at Wellsville all night, having been down the river yesterday.

Not as much money was paid out today as at the same time last year. It will be remembered that the rollers at the freight depot last November and October worked at night, while this year not an extra hour was put in by any one.

A FEW WEEKS

Will See the Improvements at the Christian Church Completed.

The work of remodeling the Christian church building in Broadway is progressing rapidly and the entire work will be completed within a few weeks.

Before the work was commenced subscription papers were circulated, and now the money is being collected. The improvements to the building will cost in the neighborhood of $1.200.

NO MORE TROUBLE.

West End School Boys on Their Good Behavior.

Since several members of the board of education complained to the mayor about the actions of a crowd of boys about the West End school there has been no more trouble.

An officer has been watching the crowd for some time, and as the boys have known this they have been acting accordingly.

FIRE PLUG WAS FROZEN

So Extinguishers Were Used by the Company

IS TRYING TO SAVE A HOUSE

The fire company was called last night to a dwelling occupied by William Kerr in Broadway.

The fire had started in the stairway leading to the cellar, and was discovered by Mrs. Leroy Barr, who lives next door. The fire plug nearby was found frozen, but extinguishers were used by the company and the fire confined to the house although other buildings were in danger. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were not at home. There was no insurance on household effects or the building.

The dwelling was that from which household goods were stolen last fall and a sensation resulted because it was said the thief was a woman. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Former Resident Dead.

Word was received last night of the death of Mrs. Cyrus Householder, a former resident of Wellsville. She died of cancer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Bunting, in Cleveland.

Mrs. Householder is an aunt of James Blue, and beside relations she had hosts of friends and neighbors here who will hear the news with regret. It is expected that the body will be brought here for interment, but arrangements have not yet been made.

Successful Services.

The meetings that have been in progress at the Evangelical mission have been very successful. The last night there were 40 at the altar, while the attendance was large.

Presiding Elder Seagar has come from Cleveland to assist Reverend Gamertsfelder in a series of meetings that will be held in the Evangelical church. Prayermeeting was held throughout today.

Mrs. David Cornelius went to Rochester, Pa., on the morning train.

Mrs. McPherson, an aged lady who resides between Seventh and Eighth streets in Broadway, was taken very ill last night. Twice a physician was summoned and her condition was considered very serious.

Attorney Lones went to Toronto on legal business this morning.

Jas. Culp, who formerly clerked in D. Mannist's clothing store, greeted his many friends in town yesterday. Mr. Culp is now located in Chicago, and had been called to the bedside of his mother in Cleveland, who has since died.

Watchman William Mahon, of the shops is sick.

W. G. Scott, of the West End, who has been ill for some weeks past and had begun to improve, has suffered a relapse.

Mrs. Mary A. Trembley, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. C. Huston, of the West End, was called home yesterday on account of sickness in her family.

There will be a social for the Junior Endeavorers at the United Presbyterian church tonight, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Captain Shepherd is visiting her daughters, Mrs. W. G. Stark and Mrs. Ida Venning in Pittsburg. She will probably spend the holidays in the city.

CITIZEN SPEAKS.

He Believes In the Beauties of a Practical Education.

"Yes, I am a believer in practical living and in practical business principles, and these are great factors in the solution of the problem of a genuine education, fitting our boys and girls for life pursuits and enterprises. The higher branches are essentials under certain circumstances and surroundings. I have not the time and you have not the space to permit elaboration of this thought or field. Brevity and argument, when the point can be reached aright, is a very desirable feature. I desire that my boys and girls shall first be pastmasters in geography, orthography, arithmetic and penmanship; and afterward, if time and money can be granted them, the so-called higher or fancy branches of education can be taken into consideration.

TOOK HIM TO PRISON

Because the Trustees Had No Place to Take Him.

SAD CONDITION OF J. M'ILHANEY

He Was Found In a Shanty In Jethro Too Ill to Care For Himself and With No One to Help Him--Could Not Take Him to the Infirmary.

A case of extreme destitution was Wednesday reported to the township trustees.

Trustee Beardmore at once investigated the case, and going to Jethro found John McIlhaney living in a shanty without any person to care for him and almost helpless. The trustee did what he could for McIlhaney, and he promised to appear at the office of the township trustees and asked that he be sent to Industry where he had friends who he said would care for him.

He failed to go to the office of the trustees yesterday, and a physician was sent to his house last evening and the case was further investigated by the trustees and McIlhaney was found to be in a very pitiable condition by the township physician. The patrol was called and he was taken to jail where he was fed and spent the night.

This morning he was looked after by the trustees and physician and was found to be in a very weak condition from lack of food and the cold, and the physician expressed the opinion that if an attempt was made to take him to the infirmary he would die before Lisbon was reached. The trustees will notify the infirmary directors, and in the meantime will find a place for McIlhaney to stay where he can receive the proper treatment.

NOT YET READY TO ACT

But Lisbon Bank Wreckers Will Be Punished

WHEN RESPONSIBILITY IS PLACED

Prosecutor J. H. Brookes Says That Nothing Has Been Done, But the Authorities Are Watching the Matter, and Will Move at the Right Time.

LISBON, Dec. 9.—[Special]—The authorities have not yet made an effort to apprehend the parties who are responsible for the condition of the First National bank of this place, but they will move at the proper time.

"Of course we have gone over the situation," said Jason H. Brookes, prosecuting attorney, "but as yet we have done nothing because the responsibility has not been placed. As soon as that is done we are going after the men who are responsible."

Mr. Brookes stated that he knew nothing of the published statement that the board of education was about to move against Auditor Harvey for the amount due that body from M. J. Child. No action has been taken, and members of the board have said nothing to him about it.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Catholic Mutual Benefit Association Had a Session.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit association met in their rooms last night and elected officers to serve for one year. They are as follows:

President, Edward A. Geon; first vice president, Thomas Dougherty; secretary, J. N. Creedon; financial secretary, John Godwin; recording secretary, John Kerrigan; treasurer, David O'Hanlon; marshal, John H. Brown; guard, Charles B. Brown; board of trustees, P. Lynch, T. O'Brien, T. Dougherty.

We don't advertise to give one dollar in gold for fifty cents, because you know it can't be done. Neither can we give you $1 worth of clothing for fifty cents, but we do say we will give you full value for your dollar, not only now but at all times.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miss Bertha Adam, of Leetonia, is the guest of friends in the city.

The street force are loafing today as they can do no work until there is a thaw.

The water works trustees and the library directors will hold meetings this evening.

The Eastern Star last evening installed officers and spent a very pleasant time.

Business is very slow in the local squires' courts and only one new case has been filed this week.

Mrs. William Beardmore, who fell on the ice several days ago and broke her arm, is slowly improving.

Officer Frank White has resumed his beat. He has been suffering with an injured leg for almost four weeks.

J. F. Aden, of Kentucky, who spent several weeks in this city during September, is expected to return next week.

Capt. W. M. Hill was in Pittsburg today attending to some personal business He will return to the city this evening.

J. French Kerr, a student at Western University of Pennsylvania, was in the city last evening attending the Columbian dance.

Night Watchman Maple, of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road in this city, is much improved. He has been suffering for several weeks with a severe cold.

Clerk McClure, who conducted the October civil service examination in the city, does not expect any answer from the papers for at least a month and it may be two months.

A construction force of the telephone company from New Castle, Pa., will arrive in the city Monday and set the poles for the new line to be constructed to Riverview cemetery.

The first sledding party of the season was given last evening by the Jolly Ten, who with their lady friends spent a delightful evening at the home of Frank Raugh, Calcutta.

The Rovers will leave in the morning for McDonald, where they will play football. They will play no more games at home until Christmas day, when they will meet East Pittsburg.

The Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church will hold a social and business meeting tonight. Miss Jean Standish, the elocutionist, will take part in the entertainment.

Helen Daily, of Allegheny, who has been visiting relatives in this city for several days, returned to her home at noon While here she suffered a bealing on her right foot, and friends were compelled to carry her on the train.

Work on the Mulberry street culvert in East End has been suspended at least for the present. The culvert is finished with the exception of the paving of the roadway. This work will be completed as soon as the weather moderates.

The United States snagboat, E. A. Woodruff, passed up early this morning going to Pittsburg where it will start the work of cleaning the channel of all obstructions. There is some work for it to do between this place and Wellsville.

A fair amount of business was handled at the freight depot yesterday. There has been a slight decrease in shipments during the last fortnight but still there is much work being done by the rollers. The receiving platform is crowded with inbound freight.

When the railroad men purchased 16 feet of the Mountford property fronting the railroad, a portion of the old pottery was purchased at the same time. This morning the work train with a gang of laborers cleared the strip of ground and it is now ready for the company to lay a siding. The ground has been surveyed and everything is in readiness for the commencement of the work.

OUR PONY CENTURY.

It Is the Very Perfection of Mechanical Skill.

Ben J. Ellis, the skillful and gentlemanly erector for the Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing company, of New York City, paid the NEWS REVIEW office a visit yesterday, on a tour of inspection, enroute from Cincinnati. He received a warm and cordial welcome as the representative of the company which turns out the finest pony century press in all this fair land, a press which gives thorough satisfaction to those who are so fortunate as to have invested therein, and which, under skillful pressmen, such as are employed by the NEWS REVIEW office, turns out job work unequalled in this city and unsurpassed by that of any establishment in the leading cities of the United States. Business men appreciate such work, as is shown by the rush now on our hands, compelling our job department to run almost night and day.
